Three Newton Residents Die In Auto, Elevator Accidents

Three Newton residents were killed in accidents this week.

Two met death in a violent, head-on automobile collision on Soldiers Field road, near the Larz Anderson Bridge in Allston.

A third was fatally crushed in a freight elevator after making a business call in a building in the North End of Boston. He was Morton Kaplan, 42, of 39 Village circle.

Victims of the crash on Soldiers Field road, near the Harvard Business School, were Harry Warren Beard, 60, of 542 Centre street, Newton, and Murray D. Solomon, 60, of 122 Austin street, Newtonville.

Mr. Beard was president of the Mayflower Furniture Company. Mr. Solomon was in the shoe business.

Beard was driving toward Boston at the time of the accident, while Mr. Solomon was proceeding in the opposite direction outward bound from Boston.

Police, attempting to ascertain the cause of the tragedy, reported that the Beard car skidded, caromed across the centre strip of the highway and into the line of oncoming traffic.

The Beard and Solomon automobiles crashed head on, killing both drivers and demolishing both vehicles.

So violent was the impact of the collision that the shoe of one of the two men flew out onto the street, and the hat of another landed on top of a car.

Five other automobiles also were piled up in the unusual accident. An expectant mother riding in one of them was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Beard's wife, an outstanding golfer, was killed in 1935 when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by an express train at a crossing in South Weymouth.

Mr. Kaplan, the victim in the elevator accident, was the father of three children and the owner of an automobile agency in Chelsea.

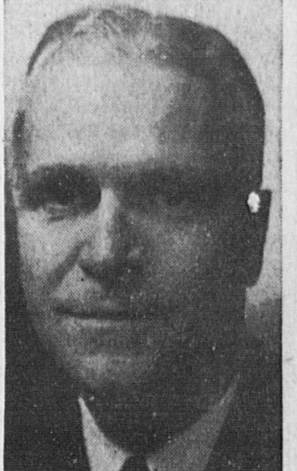

Police and firemen worked for 20 minutes to free his crushed body from between the fourth and fifth floors of a building at 61 Fulton street in the North End.

Kaplan had been paying a business call on the fifth floor of the building. Police were told that as he was leaving he disregarded a suggestion that he use the stairs and instead boarded an elevator to ride down to the ground floor.

He was a member of the Moses Michael Lodge, A.F. & A.M., the Chelsea Knights of Pythias, Temple Emanuel of Newton and the Square and Compass Club of Winthrop.

Mr. Kaplan is survived by his wife, Rose; three sons, Stephen J., Elliot M. and Sheldon H., with whom he made his home at 39 Village circle, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Kaplan of Chelsea,

Local Taxpayers Group In Favor Of Sales Tax

Urging support of the Governor's sales tax bill, the February bulletin of the Newton Taxpayers' Association also recommends raising the tuition at the Junior College enough to wipe out the small but recurrent deficits. The bulletin raps the extra $250 raise given to women teachers at maximum by the School Committee last month, and summarizes the reasons for the Association's opposition to voting machines at this time.

Failure of the legislators to adopt the sales tax bill "will let their state and municipalities slide down another notch on the competitive totem pole" asserts the bulletin as it urges the Association members to contact their representatives and senator.

A projection of the tax liability of small and medium income homeowners with or without a sales tax indicates the relatively better position of a small homeowner whose tax burden is set by a combination of sales and real estate taxes rather than by the property tax operating alone.

The bulletin recommends a tuition increase at the Junior College on two grounds: that support of public education should not be charged to the property tax beyond the 12th grade, and that though non-Newton students pay $50 more tuition, the deficits mean that Newton property taxpayers are subsidizing residents of other towns since less than half the students are from Newton.

Noting that teachers' salary raises this year were justified by the School Committee on the basis that the market required the raises to get and hold good teachers, the bulletin points out that the reason does not apply to the extra step raise of $250 given only to women teachers at maximum. That was just a $45,000 "sop to the 'equal pay for equal work' slogan," it asserts, and comments, "Very nice, but not necessary."

Women Voters

Presidential Elections To Be Explained

How the President is elected will be one of the timely topics to be covered in the next series of unit discussion meetings sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters on Feb. 9, 10, and 11.

Besides learning the details of how the party primary works in Massachusetts, those attending the meetings will become acquainted with the current legislation in the State House which relates to the State League consensus in the varied fields of education, taxes, parole and government administration.

Mrs. Arnold P. Mork, chairman of the committee on Legislation, says that particular attention will be focused on the twin Parole Bills, sponsored by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, which have recently been filed in the State House of Representatives and the Senate.

Through the generosity of the Riley House division of the Newton High School last week, the American Field Service Committee conducted the second of three assemblies to raise money to help bring foreign students to this city under the American Foreign Service student exchange program.

Shares in World Friendship were offered to the assembly and $425 was pledged by the students present. In the first assembly held at the school, with one-third of the student body attending, the amount of $507 was pledged to the fund.

Last week's assembly program featured the appearance of five students from foreign lands, and one American, who discussed the similarities as well as the differences in customs, schools, and extra-curricular activities between their lands and the United States.

The panel consisted of Gulser Berke, of Turkey, and Danilo Rogue Monti, of Argentina, both at Newton High School; Anne Marie Lemaire, of France, and Seppo J. Nieminen, of Finland, now attending Brookline High School; Lindalor S. Kennedy Bans Contributions In Campaign for Governor

State Treasurer John F. Kennedy is planning the most unusual campaign for the Massachusetts Governorship that has been made by any major candidate in modern history.

Kennedy hopes to prove it's possible to be elected Governor without a political organization, without spending any money, and without doing any campaigning in the accepted sense of the word.

The politically unorthodox Kennedy will have no campaign headquarters except for his four-room apartment in Canton and no campaign manager except for his wife. He will seek no campaign contribution.

Glittering Opera Ballet On Stage Here On Sunday

The Chicago Opera Ballet, a company of 50, with full orchestra, corps de ballet, custom built scenery and costumes designed and executed by the Spanish painter Antoni Clave and Karinka of Paris, will be by far the most lavish production yet to be offered by the Newton Community Concert Association.

The ballet will appear at Newton High School on Sunday afternoon, February 7, as the third event in the current series. Other events this year have featured Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano and Yehudi Menuhin, violinist. The series will close in March with Eden & Tamir, duo-pianists from Israel.

Ruth Page, director, producer, choreographer, and at times, dancer, for the Chicago Opera Ballet, has made a specialty of re-setting the music and libretti of well-known operas; by heightening the dramatic effects, fusing the dance with the action of the story and casting young and handsome people in the familiar operatic roles, she has been able to communicate a kind of excitement hitherto unrealized in either opera or ballet.

At least one of these pieces will appear on Sunday's program.

Prima ballerina with the company this season is Melissa Hayden, familiar to many as star of the New York City Ballet, and through her frequent appearances on television.

Supporting Miss Hayden is Kenneth Johnson, of Cleveland, assistant to Ruth Page at the Chicago Lyric Opera, who has partnered most of the great ballerinas of the day, including Vera

MELISSA HAYDEN

Zorina, Mia Slavenska and Maria Tallchief.

Other soloists in the company include the young Yugoslav ballerina Veronica Makar, Barbara Steele (Oakhomans Lute Song), and Patricia Klekovic and Orrin Kayan both of whom have risen from the ranks of the Chicago Ballet under Miss Page's tutelage.

Admission to the ballet will be by membership card only, as no tickets to Community Concerts are sold at the door.

Discuss Needs Of Hyde School

Feeling that some of the present facilities of the Hyde School in Newton Highlands leave much to be desired, its PTA is sponsoring an open panel discussion to be held on the evening of Feb. 18 at 8 p.m.

Hyde School is one of the oldest in the city's system, and many of its facilities have become antiquated. It is felt by the PTA that more attention should be given to the needs of the school and this will be the subject of the panel discussion.

Acting as moderator for the evening will be the school's former principal, Clarence Churchill who recently retired after 21 years at Hyde School. The panel will have such distinguished members as Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Harry Walen and Franklin Flaschner of the Board of Aldermen, Edwin Hawkridge of the School Committee, John Gilleland, Director of Business Services, and Frank Simmons, Director of Physical Education for the City of Newton. Victor Kumin, President, will present the views of the PTA.

New Members Join Ward 1 GOP Committee

The Ward 1 Republican Committee met at the home of the chairman, Gilbert I. Isgur, on Thursday, Jan. 28, when eight new members were proposed for election as regular members and seven workers proposed for election as associate members.

Mr. Isgur stated that with the addition of the new members, the Ward Committee would be able to present a slate of candidates for election in the pre-presidential election, in April, without having to resort to the election of members who would lend their names but not their efforts. Also, with the addition of the new associate members, the ward committee was now building a reserve list of workers who could be elected as regular members if any vacancies did occur in the future.

The chairman also reported that three new members have been secured in the Nonantum Precinct 1 section and that these new members will now give the G.O.P. group a working force in that section of the ward.

At this meeting the resignation of vice chairman was accepted from Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Alderman Adelaide B. Ball was elected to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Jacob Newstadt was elected as ward committee secretary, the position formerly held by Miss Ball.

Walter Muther, residential chairman for the Newton Republican Finance Committee, reported to the members of the plans that would be followed in the finance drive next April as well as to outline the list of material that will be made available to the ward workers.

City Committee Chairman, Carleton P. Merrill, talked to the group on the need of increasing the participation of members in the work of registration of new voters as well as to give a general outline of the "Recruit for 60" program.

Following a question and answer period which was conducted by the precinct captains, Herbert Shulman and Theodore Morton, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Isgur.

He was walking through the square when the cab came near him. The pedestrian yelled at the cabbie and an argument developed, police said. Both men cooled off, shook hands and the driver offered Milroy a drink to "show there was no hard feelings," police were told.

Milroy was driven in the cab to Fruit street, where the driver turned to face his rider, cursed him and fired a bullet into his abdomen, according to the story told police by Milroy from his hospital bed. Milroy then allegedly was thrown from the cab.

The victim staggered into the hospital, talked with police and allegedly identified a photo of DiStaso as the gunman.

Goes To New Zealand As AFS Exchange Student

BARBARA SWANTON

It won't be long now before the good people at the bottom of the world in Invercargill—the southernmost city in New Zealand—will begin to learn all about Newton Massachusetts.

Newton's ambassador to this self-governing member of the British Commonwealth of Nations is Miss Barbara Swanton of 27 George St., a junior at Newton High School.

Next Tuesday, Feb. 9, at San Francisco, Calif., she'll take her friendly smile and bright, flashing eyes aboard ship for the Pacific sail to the far-away land she will call home for six months. Thirty other girls will be aboard.

Her departure marks the first time an American Field Service student from Newton goes to New Zealand.

It also points up the fact that the AFS committee in Newton is beginning to investigate boarding facilities for next year's exchange students.

The committee, which is considering the possibility of bringing three students here next year instead of two, hopes for a larger number of applicants to house students than ever before.

Any family interested in having an AFS student in its home is asked to contact Mrs. David A. Bergmark at LA 7-0465.

A foreign guest is an easy and pleasant experience.

"We've learned as much as he has, I'm sure," said Mrs. John B. Richmond of 322 Woodward street, Waban. She was speaking of Danilo Monte, 18, an AFS student from the Argentine, who is attending NHS this year, and living at her home.

"Don't hesitate," she added. "These are wonderful children." Mrs. Richmond admitted she was a trifle scared when she first was notified that Dan would be living at her home. She has two boys of her own, James, 5, and Martin, 14.

The Argentine boy spoke little English when he arrived last August, but he speaks fluently now.

Worcester Polytechnic Institute announces election of David M. Raab of 31 Alban road, Waban, as photographer of Tech News, the student publication. He is a junior in electrical engineering.

When she meets her new "family" late in February, she will have a new sister named Sally. Summer vacation will be just over when "Barbie" arrives.

Among the many adjustments she will have to make will be biking to an all-girl school each day. She will wear a uniform consisting of a midly blouse, bloomers and oxfords.

"At least I won't have to take many clothes," Barbie said.

Two of her special interests are music and sports, and according to her "sister's" letter, there will be many opportunities to enjoy both.

Sally—her last name is Hanson—has written of her own interest in singing, piano and guitar.

There will be plenty of time during the six months stay for ice-skating, skiing and water-skiing.

The Newton ambassador of good will returns home in September. The ship docks in Florida on Sept. 15 after a trip through the Panama Canal.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY by Edith Shane of SARO

315 Walnut St., Newtonville
EXACTLY RIGHT FOR YOU

Is the waving lotion really different at the beauty salon? Compare it this way: Is the bottled remedy you pick from a drugstore shelf as exactly right for your condition as the medical prescription your own doctor gives you? We analyze your hair's texture and health just as your doctor analyzes your physical symptoms before he prescribes for you. Then, from our many permanent waves, we pick the one exactly right for your hair's present condition.

I'm often asked if home permanents have hurt our business. Actually, I think they've helped us to grow! Only by experimenting with your own hair can you understand the full value of professional care. One disappointing home experiment will show you why we learn our craft so carefully—and why we constantly attend classes to improve our techniques. So, next time come to us... for results you know you'll be proud of!

Political Highlights

tributions; nor will he accept any if they come to him unsolicited.

Whatever expenses are incurred will be extremely modest and will be paid for out of his own pocket. He has set a budget of not more than $100 for the primary and a similar sum for the final election campaign in the event of his nomination in September.

Treasurer Kennedy will make no campaign speeches whatever in the primary. He'd prefer not to make any prior to the November election, if he's nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor, although he says that circumstances might cause him to modify his plans in that respect.

The only campaigning he will do in the primary will be when he goes from door to door for several weeks in the early summer to help obtain the 2500 nomination signatures necessary to qualify for a place on the ballot.

After the necessary signatures have been obtained and filed, Kennedy will devote himself to his duties as Treasurer and make no public appearances before the primary.

The only exception he will make to that rule is that he will accept any and all invitations to debate his opponents either in the primary or election campaigns.

Kennedy believes that debates are a very good thing in any campaign. He'll meet his adversaries on public platforms, on television or on radio, his one stipulation being that he will not assume any expenses in connection with such appearances.

Not only is Kennedy limiting himself to total expenditures of $100 for the primary, but he is impressing upon his supporters that he doesn't want them spending "even a dime" to advance his candidacy.

The $100, incidentally, will be used to buy sandwiches and coffee for a handful of workers who will help him gather his nomination signatures and for refreshments for a party he will have at his home on primary night for his relatives and friends as they listen to the returns.

At the moment Kennedy is not looking beyond the primary, and his plan of action from now until the voters go to the polls Sept. 20 to nominate the members of the rival State tickets is clearly defined.

It was pointed out to Kennedy that a person who wins and accepts the Democratic nomination for Governor is for all practical purposes the head of a State ticket. Kennedy was asked what his attitude toward campaigning would be if he gains the nomination in the primary. He pondered the question thoughtfully before replying.

His answer was that he definitely would not go on the campaign circuit, as gubernatorial candidates usually do, and that his present thinking is that he would prefer not to campaign at all.

But he said that if the other members of the Democratic State ticket felt he was impairing their election chances by abstaining from campaigning, he might, as a matter of fairness to them, make a moderate number of appearances.

That, Kennedy added, was a matter on which he would defer a decision until and unless the question actually presented itself.

Kennedy's bid for nomination for Governorship not only will be completely devoid of trimmings and ballyhoo, but he will not even engage in what political observers would consider the bare minimum activity for a candidate seeking state-wide office.

For example, Kennedy does not intend to issue any written statements to the newspapers telling the people why he thinks they should vote for him or explaining his position on any of the issues which may arise during the campaign.

If any newsman wants to know where Kennedy stands on an issue, he can go to the Treasurer and ask him. Kennedy will be glad to answer any questions. But he will not be issuing any news releases or campaign bulletins.

Kennedy, in fact, would not have issued a written statement formally announcing himself a candidate for Governor except that he discovered to his surprise that some people were unaware of his political intentions. Kennedy thought he had taken care of the matter when he told a reporter last year that he would seek the Governorship.

In order to clear up any confusion or uncertainty on the matter, Treasurer Kennedy issued his first, and probably also his last, written statement of the campaign.

Kennedy will stay far away from the Democratic State Convention and will not authorize anyone to submit his name to the conclave. He feels the convention is "undemocratic" but adds that it "doesn't do too much harm" as long as candidates can still run in the primary.

As far as money is concerned, the extraordinary Mr. Kennedy says he wouldn't want to be Governor if he had to accept any contributions to attain the office.

He hopes to get elected without having any obligation to anyone. "When a candidate accepts contributions, he, in effect, compromises any decision he might be called upon to make," says Kennedy. "He either has to go along with the request of a large contributor or be an ingrate."

In view of all the things he isn't going to do, Kennedy was asked how he expects to be nominated and elected. His answer was that he will depend on the word-of-mouth support of people who would like to see him elected Governor.

Kennedy's unorthodox campaign technique has been successful in three primaries and three elections for State Treasurer. Whether it will work in a contest for the Governorship, where the voters are accustomed to having the candidates display themselves much more prominently than Kennedy intends to do, is a question which will not be answered until much later in the year.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JANE SCHNEIDER

HIGHLIGHTS . . . The juniors purchased their class rings. The Junior Class recently voted on the style of rings they wanted. Mr. Spencer MacDonald, class advisor, said that the rounded-square style was selected by a large majority.

The class ring committee is composed of Ruth Cooperstein, Marjorie Daner, Sue Glickman, George Levenson, Elayne Shapiro, Lorraine DiLuzio, and Mara Eglitis. The prices for the rings range from $16.60 to $19.95 depending upon the size.

A deposit of $5 was made when the ring was ordered. The balance will be paid when it arrives in April.

The reading study clinic, organized many years ago, had been reorganized as an independent department. The clinic has two major purposes: remedial reading for the pupils who need much help; and development for those who are not working up to capacity.

Miss Edith Rideout heads the clinic and is assisted by Mr. Robert Carey. Pupils may apply for help directly or through subject teachers.

Eight Newton High School seniors were among the semi-finalists in the competition for National Merit Scholarships. They are Danny Berman, Roberta Books, Joe Green, Alan Morrison, David Phillips, Peggy Rosenbaum, John Shaner, and Allan Zellman. The test had two scores: the raw and the percentile. It was necessary to have a raw score of 140 points. The average percentile was 99 per cent. Of the semi-finalists, 95 per cent become finalists. They will be announced in May.

AFS . . . There was a panel discussion recently consisting of Selby Hickey and five AFS foreign students. One of the highlights of the program was an Argentine folksong sung by Danilo Monti, Suzanna Van Keuren, Kirstin Ferre, and Sally Remley.

The questions asked the panel were suggested by Stephanie Krebs, Judy Gilbert, Barbara Swanton and Mary Kruger. Mark Brenner and Sue Draisin were responsible for the distribution of the pledges. The pledges were written by Mimi Kaye, Linda Lewis, Irene Levins, and Geri Lasserson planned the seating arrangement.

The musical portion of the program was organized by Barbara Gordon, with Sally Morrison playing the piano, Robin Kaufman and the publicities committee made the posters advertising world peace through friendship.

THE GREAT BIG WONDERFUL WHIRL . . . The annual junior prom will be held on February 20 from 8 p.m. to midnight. The general co-chairmen of the prom are Peter Sahlin and Dian Averbuck. The chairmen of the other committees are Hospitality, Marjorie Whitney and Susan Eames; Publicity, Dian Averbuck and George Levenson.

Mexican Visitors Enjoy U.S. Goodies in Newton

Three groups of young men and women from Mexico were guests in Newton homes during January under the auspices of the Experiment in International Living. The experiment is a private non-profit educational institution with no political or religious affiliations.

In addition to extended visits to major American cities, shorter trips were also planned to the homes of Americans to provide personal relations and to allow the visitors an insight into everyday American life.

It was this second part of the program which allowed the visits to homes in Newton, as well as trips to some of the elementary schools, following visits to Harvard, MIT, Boston

ENJOY HOME-MADE PIE—Mexican visitors enjoy the delights of home-made blueberry pie at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Litman, Franklin street, Newton. University and sightseeing trips to historic places in and around Boston.

The young Mexican visitors also were introduced to various kinds of American foods and delicacies, including ice cream and old-fashioned, home-made American pies.

Newton hosts of the first group were Dr. and Mrs. Meyer Ritve, 63 Bennington street, Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Simon Scheff, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton; Dr.

and Mr. and Mrs. George Ington street, Newtonville, Dr. and Mrs. Morris Chafetz, 108 Hagen road, Newton Centre; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ginsburg, 46 Alderwood road, Newton Centre.

Additional hosts in the second group were Dr. and Mrs. James H. Currens, 222 Prince St., West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gordon, 40 Beaumont Ave., Newtonville; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, 119 Waban Ave., Waban; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weiss, 40 Hampshire St., West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Litman, 107 Franklin St., Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cahan, 121 Fairway Dr., West Newton; and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Canter, 276 Dorset Rd., Waban. The remaining hosts of the third group were Dr. and Mrs. Francis E. McDonough, 227 Temple St., West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arbetter, 105 Fair Oaks Ave., Newtonville; Dr. and Mrs. Leon Shapiro, 24 Mayflower Rd., Chestnut Hill; Dr. and Mrs. Edward Friedman, 29 Greenwood St., Newton Centre; and Mr. and Mrs. George

Favor Tax-

The Association is recorded in opposition to the installation of voting machines now because "the equivalent of 1 to 2 dollars on the tax rate is too much for the net benefit to the voter-taxpayer." Stating that with all factors being favorable it would take 60-70 years for the city to recover the cost, the bulletin cites the net benefits as being an earlier count of between 3-8 hours, somewhat more complete voting and lower cost recounts. It concludes that in view of the cost the real beneficiaries would not be the voter-taxpayer.

Hauser, 47 Windemere Rd., Auburndale.

Next summer there will be several experiments here from various European countries. Newton families wishing to participate in the program are asked to contact Mrs. Simon Scheff, Newton chairman, at DE 2-5406.

10 Players Banished As Newton 6 Ties Waltham

Newton and Waltham stole the spotlight in the 11th round of games at the Arena Saturday afternoon as Arlington annexed the GBI title.

In a wild melee during which ten players from both teams were banished on match misconduct penalties, the Tigers scored the equalizer which gave them a 3-3 tie with Waltham.

It gave Newton undisputed possession at this stage of second place with 12 points, eight behind Arlington, and one point ahead of a third place tie involving Medford, Waltham and Brookline. Each have 11 points.

Officials who banished the 10 players had to break up two jams. It makes the boys ineligible for play next week.

Midway in the final period Waltham was leading 3-2 and Newton's Mark Lancaster and Waltham's Ben Potter were battling for the puck near the Waltham cage. All of a sudden sticks dropped to the ice and the punching and wrestling began.

Five Waltham and four Newton players were handed major penalties for fighting. In the group were, Newton—Dave Connors, Terry Kelly, Mark Lancaster and Pete Sahlin; Waltham—Neil McPhee, Ben Potter, Frank Kel-

College Club's Region Meeting Next Thursday

Mrs. Earle Wayne Wilkins, Jr., regional chairman for the Connecticut College Club of Boston, will be hostess at her home, 110 Highland street, West Newton, for the regional meeting and morning coffee to be held next Thursday, February 11.

Plans will be made for a comprehensive tea for prospective juniors from all schools in the Boston area to be held in April.

Mrs. Wilkins will be assisted by her committee: Mrs. Frank Wheelock, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. Newell Garden, Mrs. Irving Levy and Mrs. Paul Wally, Carl Pergola and Tim Cousins.

Then Newton's Roger Urell came up with the tying goal at 7:53. Thirteen seconds later Waltham's Bill Benoit circled the cage.

When he was 15 feet away, Newton Goalie Dave Thompson hurled his stick—or it slipped from his hands—and this earned the goalie the 10th match penalty and a ticket to the bullpen.

Newton Bank Gives Annual Davis Award

James L. Walsh, Jr., of the Cost Department of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has been given the George P. Davis Annual Award for his outstanding service to the bank during 1959.

In presenting the award, George L. White, bank president, said:

"The Davis Award, a sterling silver bowl donated by one of the bank's directors, is presented to the individual who has contributed most to the over-all progress of the bank during the year. Mr. Walsh has helped to establish and now supervises the Cost Department for the entire nineteen offices of the bank. In his capacity it is his responsibility to determine and help control all internal expenditures."

Mr. Walsh resides with his family at 76 Forest street in Roxbury.

Accept Dennard Registration With Regret

The Newton School Committee announced today through Chairman Haskell C. Freedman, that it has accepted the resignation of Eric N. Dennard, Superintendent of Schools, effective June 30, with deep regret.

Speaking for the School Committee, Mr. Freedman said:

"Mr. Dennard, in the comparatively short time he served in Newton, has contributed to the forward progress of the Newton Public Schools, particularly in the areas of administrative reorganization and curriculum improvement."

"He is a man of integrity, and an outstanding and forward-looking school administrator. The Committee appreciates his personal reasons in wishing to return to his native state of Texas, and on leaving he carries with him the affection and best wishes of the Newton Public Schools."

Mr. Freedman further stated that the Committee would search for a successor in the local and regional areas, as well as from national sources.

In this connection, Chairman Freedman has been authorized to communicate on behalf of the Committee with schools of education and nationally known educators to invite suggestions. He will attend the forthcoming annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators to be held in Atlantic City on February 13-17, to meet with possible candidates.

Dr. Johns was selected for the trip by the National Council of Y.M.C.A. He expects to arrive in Russia on May 15 and will remain there until June 15.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS By LEE LOUMOS

On Sunday, Feb. 7, CBS will present a story of one of the great tragedies that occurred during the 1930's, entitled "The Dust Bowl."

This story will show how the great swirling dust storms almost created an American Sahara as the result of man's thoughtless abuse, neglect and poor farming methods. In the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma this period could have been appropriately called "The Dirty Thirties."

Years of over-grazing and over-planting had eroded the soil to the point where a serious drought simply dried up what soil was left and the winds blew great clouds of dust over the land.

As a result of this disaster of nature, millions of farmers and ranchers were starved out, their lands parched. Those with resources managed to pull in their belts and squeak through the drought years. They have taken a hard-learned lesson from their earlier disregard of nature and once again have fertile land to which they now apply the latest scientific methods of irrigation, crop rotation and animal husbandry.

We can read about important past events in our history books, but for most of us the medium of TV gets the story across in a much more vivid and interesting manner. And the better the TV set you have, the more you will enjoy the program. If you have owned a Sylvania TV set we don't need to point out its merits to you. You're familiar with its high quality picture and sound and its dependability. If you haven't owned a Sylvania TV set, come in for an interesting demonstration.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house for demonstration of the new Thomas choral translator circuit—hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for so little money.

The committee is made up of distinguished Democrats from 14 Southern Middlesex cities and towns, from Newton and Watertown on the east, to Hudson and Holliston on the west.

INSTALLED—Miss Ann Fallon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert C. Fallon, of Auburndale, was elected an officer of the Sigma Theta Tau, national honor society of nursing, at St. Joseph's College, Maryland. Miss Fallon is a junior at the college and a graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1957.

Named To Nurse Study Committee

146th Annual Meeting Elects Lower Falls Church Officers

The 146th annual meeting of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Newton Lower Falls was held in the parish hall of the historic old church on Wednesday evening, Jan. 27.

The meeting was called to order by the retiring Senior Warden, Leonard J. Edel, and reports were heard by David Currier of Newton Lower Falls, the incoming Senior Warden, on the activities of the Vestry. Mrs. Stanley Robinson, also of Newton Lower Falls, told of the work of the women of the parish. Financial reports were explained by Robert Clinton.

The Rev. William Gardner, rector, spoke of the year's work. He appointed Mrs. Marcy Eager as directress of the Altar Guild, Mrs. Delbert Jackson, Jr., as United Thank Offering chairman and Wayne Kelley, head of the Servers' Guild.

APPOINTED—Eric H. Hanson of 239 Wiswell road, Newton Center, takes over next Monday as manager of the Legislative Department of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce. He will head the Chamber's activities concerning state and national legislation.

It is interesting to note that this outstanding sales performance occurred during the year which marked Mr. Vanderhoof's 35th year with Standard, and Mr. Mesmer's 25th year as head of the local sales branch.

Standard Duplicator sales leaders from around the nation will be in attendance at the banquet as well as the sales conference to be held February 5, at the Everett, Mass. plant.

Two offers for city-owned land were accepted by the Newton Board of Aldermen at their meeting Monday night.

The United Carr Fastener Corp. offered $2,000 for Lot 14, Section 83, Block 14, on High St., Newton Upper Falls. The lot is in a residential area and the company intends to use it for parking. Permission for this purpose must be sought.

The other piece of property was purchased for $3,300 by Ellis Sutcliffe. It is Lot 18, Section 55, Block 1. It contains about 18,000 square feet, but requires much fill before a dwelling can be built on it.

The School Committee's request was a renewal of the controversy of last year over expenditure of $1100 for out-of-state travel. The Aldermen refused to pay the expenditure, and the Committee brought action in Superior Court.

This action was taken under advisement by Judge Francis J. Quirico in Middlesex Superior Court just before Christmas, and a court decision is expected shortly.

Boy Scouts Plan Big Golden Jubilee Week

Boy Scout Week, February 7-13, will be celebrated by over 5,500 registered members of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America in the city of Newton and the towns of Wellesley and Weston. This 50th Anniversary celebration of the Boy Scouts of America will be highlighted by events on the unit, council and national levels.

According to Scout Executive Ralph B. Johnson of Newtonville, Boy Scout Week celebrations will begin on Scout Sunday, Feb. 7, with special religious services being held in many of the local churches. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers have been asked to attend church wearing their Scout uniforms. Many units will attend en masse with their leaders.

Scout Sabbath services will be conducted in temples on Friday, Feb. 12. Scouts of Jewish faith will attend these services along with their leaders.

All boys and leaders in Scouting in Newton, Wellesley and Weston have been invited to attend a rededication to the Scout Oath ceremony that will be held on Monday, Feb. 8, the 50th anniversary day. This rededication will be conducted in the War Memorial Auditorium at Newton City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Most Scouting units are planning some type of display. Many will set up window displays in cooperation with local businessmen. Live Scouting demonstrations will be viewed in some areas. Several of the Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorers units will be having Blue and Gold Banquets, Courts of Honor, and Parents' Nights.

Boy Scout Week will be a Good Turn Week. All Scouts are being urged to wear their uniforms as much as possible this week. Although the Good Turn is a part of the everyday program of the Boy Scouts of America, special Good Turns are being encouraged during Boy Scout Week.

The Annual Recognition Banquet of Norumbega Council will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 9. The guest speaker will be a nationally famous Scouting figure, Dr. Gunnar H. Berg. It will take place at the Meadowbrook Junior High School in Newton. Tickets are available at the Norumbega Council Service Center in Newtonville.

The United States Post Office Department will issue a special commemorative stamp honoring the Boy Scouts of America on Feb. 8.

National publications as well as radio and television programs will feature Scouting during Boy Scout week and will continue to do so in many cases throughout the 50th Anniversary year.

Norumbega Council Inc., Boy Scouts of America is a Red Feather Agency supported in part by the United Fund.

Comr. Johnson Cited For Aid To Nat. Assn.

The National Recreation Association has presented to Commissioner C. Evan Johnson of the Newton Recreation Department a certificate for his helpful service as a member of the advisory committee of the National Recreation Association.

The certificate was signed by Joseph Prendergast, executive director, and Grant Tiltworth, chairman of the board.

"Even though your term as a committee member expired December 31st," the letter accompanying the certificate said, "we are certain you will continue to be actively interested and ready to cooperate, as the committee may request your counsel and experience on the important administrative problems it will be studying."

Beethoven PTA Hears Educator

The February meeting of the Beethoven P.T.A. will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 9 at 8 o'clock. A brief business meeting will be held with committee reports given.

Meet Your Visiting Nurse

MRS. ANN MARIE PARADIS, R.N.

Mrs. Ann Marie Paradis is a busy member of one of Newton's important health agencies, the Newton Visiting Nurse Association. She is a graduate of St. Elizabeth's Hospital School of Nursing, and functions in the Waban-West Newton area.

One of the important aspects of the bedside program is aiding in the rehabilitation of the handicapped. Working under the physician's orders, and with the guidance of the physical therapy consultant, Mrs. Paradis will demonstrate to the patient and to the family the fundamentals of exercising a paralyzed arm or leg, and the principles underlying correct body mechanics.

Many patients can be helped to achieve maximum progress in returning to the activities of daily living by the prompt establishment of a rehabilitation plan. It is only through the combined effort of the doctor, the family and the nurse that this goal can be realized.

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association is a Red Feather Agency participating in the United Fund.

Lt. Lawrence Clark of the Newton Fire Department will discuss fire prevention in the home at the February luncheon meeting of the Newton Community Club in Grace Church Parish Hall, Feb. 11 at 1 p.m.

Clark will explain the proper and safe way a home should be wired, how many times fires can start from electrical causes, and the use and misuse of electrical appliances. At the conclusion of the talk he will answer questions on this subject.

Overflow Interfaith Meetings Seen Newton Answer To Hoodlum Antics

Newton's answer to the much publicized antics of hoodlums, hooligans and crack-pots around the nation is best exemplified in the increasing response to the interfaith movement in this city.

Launched here several years ago, the movement is expanding in a manner most heartening to the city's membership in Christian churches and Jewish temples.

Most recent success was the overflow attendance at the Interfaith Luncheon Meeting, sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel and held at the temple community hall last Wednesday evening. Approximately 400 guests and members of local church groups attended.

Invited guests were well known Protestant ministers and their wives, leaders and members of the women's groups of four Newton churches and members of the Temple congregation.

Rabbi Gordon extended greetings.

Cantor Gabriel Hochberg presented a program of vocal melodies, consisting of liturgical, Israeli music and folk songs.

Head table guests included: Rev. Arthur A. Rouser, Jr., minister of the Eliot Church of Newton; Mrs. Richard H. Lee, representing the Eliot Church Women's Association; Rev. and Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, of the Eliot Church; Dr. and Mrs. Albert I. Gordon, Temple Emanuel; Mrs. J. Charles San-tis, Temple Emanuel Sisterhood president; Rev. and Mrs. John A. Samuelson, Newton Highlands Congregational Church; Mrs. F. W. Perkins, president of the Grace Church Service League; Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Lehman, Grace Episcopal Church; Rev. and Mrs. Harold Malmberg, First Baptist Church in Neweoon; Mrs. James H. Three Newton Boy Scouts Get Coveted Ad Altare Dei Medal

Three young Newton Boy Scouts are the proud wearers of the coveted Ad Altare Dei medal award (highest award in Catholic Scouting,) presented to them by His Eminence Cardinal Cushing at colorful exercises held Sunday at the Donnelly Theatre, Boston.

They are: David Hay, of 18 Webster street, Newton;

Henry "Tod" Brown, of 17 Thaxter road, Newtonville; and Dennis McEnaney, of 1845 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale.

The boys are all members of the Scout troop of St. Bernard's parish, West Newton.

The Ad Altare Dei medals, given by the Roman Catholic Church to Catholic Boy Scouts, recognizes their efforts towards religious advancement in Boy Scouting. The medals are presented annually at special church services. Cardinal Cushing made the presentations on Sunday. The medal is in the form of a bronze cross suspended from a ribbon in the National and Papal colors under a bronze pin inscribed "Ad Altare Dei."

Newton Sixth Graders Exchange Letters With President Eisenhower

The boys and girls of Grade Six in the John Ward School are keeping a closer eye than usual these days on international affairs, especially since the President of the United States sent them his best wishes.

The youngsters, under the guidance of their teacher, Vito Sammarco, sent a letter to President Eisenhower telling of their great interest in his recent trip to the European NATO countries, as well as Greece, Turkey, India, Pakistan and northern Africa.

They kept scrapbooks of Mr. Eisenhower's trip and sent them along to the White House.

The letters follow:

Mr. President,
This week we have been discussing and studying your trip to all the important countries, and we hope you enjoyed it very much.

Our teacher, Mr. Sammarco has broadened our minds of the future and of what is going on in the world. We have studied many things in the months we have been in school which we thought were very interesting but, I feel our class was more interested and enjoyed the study of the trip most of all. So for one of our assignments we enclose some of our acknowledgments, and we hope you like them as

Referendum On Sales Tax Sought By Labor Leaders

A move has been quietly started on Beacon Hill to place a sales tax referendum on the ballot for a vote by the people of Massachusetts in next November's election.

Several prominent labor leaders are behind the endeavor to establish beyond dispute whether a majority of Bay State citizens want a sales tax. Through labor organizations across the Commonwealth they plan to obtain about 40,000 signatures in order to place the sales tax issue before the voters.

The procedure followed would be exactly the same as that employed by State Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, present Republican candidate for Governor, when he headed up a drive for a referendum on the elimination of disability pension abuses.

Since Governor Furcolo advocated a sales tax three years ago, an argument has raged between supporters and opponents of the proposal as to whether a majority of the people

Probe $10,000 Newt. Centre Shop Blaze

Careless smoking has been blamed unofficially for the two-alarm fire last Friday morning which did an estimated $10,000 damage to stock and fixtures of the Tante's Card and Gift Shop at 19 Pelham st., Newton Centre.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., called on the state fire marshal's office for aid in determining cause of the blaze. There was smoke damage to the adjoining Atwood Camera Shop and Shain Cleaners.

Chief Perkins said fire walls prevented spread of the flames to the one-story brick block of three stores near Centre st. Fire fighters donned gas masks during the three-hour job.

Wellesley, Waltham and Watertown sent apparatus to cover the Newton stations.

Furcolo Highway Plan Would Benefit Newton

Residents of Newton and of every other city and town in Massachusetts would benefit from Governor Furcolo's proposed $1 billion, accelerated four-year highway construction program, State Public Works Commissioner Anthony N. DiNatale declared at a legislative hearing at the State House this week.

DiNatale asserted that Furcolo's program would make possible safer, more convenient and comfortable driving for virtually every motorist in every community.

Sales Tax Voted Down At Newton GOP Dinner

Governor Furcolo's controversial sales tax fared poorly in a written poll taken at the overflow gathering attending the annual Lincoln Day Dinner sponsored by three Newton Republican organizations at the Normandie Room last Saturday night.

The poll also indicated strong support for a freeway to Boston, extending from the Massachusetts Turnpike at Newton.

With better than 400 attending the affair, approximately 200 ballots were turned in. They were given to each diner without advance warning; each person could either make out and turn in or ignore as they wished.

Ninety-six registered thumbs down on the sales tax, with 69 voting for the tax as proposed; 45 expressed agreement with the principle of the tax but were against it as proposed.

One hundred and thirty-nine favored a freeway from Newton to Boston; 29 voted for the proposed turnpike extension, and 37 were satisfied to allow the situation to remain as at present.

One hundred and twenty-three voted in favor of retention of the Boston & Albany train service; 14 wanted it abolished.

Expressing preference for Republican candidates for Governor, former Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., polled 162 votes against 27 for Volpe, 5 for Graham and 3 for Giles.

Voting their choice for a successor for the seat of former senator, now Mayor, Donald L. Gibbs, Merrill received 74, Freedman 41, Heaney 23 and Uehlein 12 write-ins.

Fighting inflation and maintaining a sound dollar polled the most votes, 163, as the most vital project confronting the Federal Government; increasing the growth rate of the economy received 26 votes to place second.

The Newton Republican Club, Newton Republican City Committee, and the Women's Republican Club were sponsors of the dinner, one of the most successful in the organizations' histories.

Results of the poll were announced by Edward C. Uehlein, Republican Club president.

MRS. BETTY TAYMOR Newton Women In Democratic Meeting Roles

Committeewoman Taymor will be one of the speakers and will outline campaign techniques. Mrs. Schwartz is serving on the committee in charge of the event.

Promoted To Parish Priest

Rev. Charles B. Murphy, a native of Newton, has been promoted by Cardinal Cushing from assistant at St. Paul's Parish in Cambridge, to parish priest of St. Joseph's Parish in Holbrook.

Fr. Murphy was ordained Dec. 8, 1932 and studied at St. John's Seminary in Brighton and the North American College in Rome.

Local Leaders Opposed To Partisan Elections

Newton's system of electing its Mayors would be drastically revamped under the provisions of a bill now pending before the Legislature.

Even if the measure is enacted by the Legislature, however, it would be subject to acceptance or rejection by Newton voters in next November's election.

The bill, which is being sharply opposed by a number of Newton leaders, provides for a partisan election in which a Republican and a Democratic candidate would run after being nominated in party primaries.

Newton presently conducts non-partisan municipal elections to choose its Mayor as well as the members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee.

All candidates for Mayor now run in the final election. There is no preliminary contest to narrow the field down to two persons, as is the same in some cities, including Boston. Three contenders, for example, battled it out in the mayoralty race last November.

The measure, which was filed for Attorney Dennis M. Cronin, Sr., former candidate for Mayor and Congressman, has caused a tremendous amount of confusion.

Mr. Cronin explained that his purpose was not to obtain a partisan primary, in which a Republican and Democratic candidate for Mayor would be nominated, but rather to secure a non-partisan preliminary election to narrow the mayoralty field to two candidates, both of whom might be of the same political party.

Attorney Cronin outlined his objective to experts at the State House. But the measure they turned out proved different than what he had in mind, and it was filed without being shown to Cronin. Some of the persons sup-

Rep. Irene K. Thresher, chairman of the Newton Housing Authority, has announced that probably more than one project will be constructed.

She stressed the importance of building projects so that elderly people who move into them will not be cut off from stores, churches and other facilities they are accustomed to using. The Newton projects units, and the search for sites is under way.

Members of the Authority have visited projects throughout the state to see what has been done with both state and federal financing. As soon as the local Authority has conferred with administrators of the finance program it has chosen, the decision will be announced on what financing has been selected.

Newton Agencies Suffer From Decreased United Fund Money

Newton's 12 Red Feather agencies will receive considerably less in operating allotments this year as a result of a drop in the annual contributions to the Greater Boston campaign. The annual grants were approved recently by the Board of Directors of the Community Chest and the decrease was announced by President Harry L. Walen.

Grants totalled $254,600 for 1960. This amount represents a decrease of 5.2 percent from grants made in 1959 and a cut of 30 percent in the agencies' requests for 1960.

The reason for this cut in total grants, according to Mr. Walen is that the United Community Services had allocated 8.2 percent less money this year than last to the Newton Chest as a direct result of their own decreased allotments from the United Fund in Greater Boston.

"The United Fund in 1958 and 1959," he said, "actually distributed amounts greater than was raised in those years in the full expectation that higher income would be realized as the United Fund became a fully operable and mature organization."

"For 1960, however, the decision has been made to distribute only the amount raised and to avoid increasing the deficit further. We can win adequate financial support for our agencies only by fully supporting the United Fund in years to come. Our agencies all face increased demands in their service to our community and deserve better financial support than we are able to give them."

Funds allocated to the Newton Chest for distribution to its member agencies from United Community Services, a major partner of the United Fund, according to Edward A. Green, chairman of the Newton Budget Committee, totalled $240,998. These funds were supplemented by the limited reserve funds of the Newton Chest by $13,602 to bring the total 1960 grants to $254,600.

The problem of supporting the Red Feather agencies, at a time when costs are rising in every agency, on a grant which is considerably lower

St. Bernard's Expansion Includes School, Convent

A campaign to provide funds for the expansion of the school facilities in the St. Bernard Parish area was announced this week by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Bernard S. O'Kane, pastor of St. Bernard's Church.

This will represent the first major fund-raising effort for St. Bernard's parish, and will enable them to improve their inadequate school facilities with an expanded plant capable of meeting the demands of present conditions.

Basically the effort has three objectives:

(1) A proposed new high school for girls to accommodate 500 students; (2) Addition of four classrooms to the present grade school; (3) Enlargement of the present convent so as to accommodate 30 Sisters.

The campaign, under the direction of Thomas R. Finn and Associates of Kansas City, Missouri, is based on pledges payable over a 156 week period beginning March 20.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Bernard, who is honorary chairman and treasurer, met with a top committee of 26 laymen to review the plan of campaign. It is planned to expand the campaign organization to an over-all strength of 650 men of the parish who will make the actual solicitation of pledges.

Campaign Chairmen who have accepted posts of responsibility to date, include: Ed Williams, general chairman; Philip F. Cacciatore, associate chairman; Leo Grace, Dayton P. Hagny, Thomas J. Lyons, Malcolm F. MacNeil, Charles O. Monahan and Robert J. Owens, special gifts Chairmen; Thomas J. White, publicity chairman; Bernard R. Baldwin, meetings chairman; B. W. Cosentino, speakers chairman; Rev. Daniel E. Quinn, Rev. Richard L. Osterman, Rev. Robert D. Navien, John J. Cahill and Giles E. Mosher, Jr., auditing committee; Lario J. Balboni, Eugene A. Cronin, George W. Bresnahan, James F. Hogan, James J. Lynch and John B. O'Loughlin, solicitation co-chairmen.

Members of the Endorsement Committee are: Anthony Bonica, Charles G. Hayden, M.D., Henry F. Keating, Donald MacMillan, Adrian O'Keefe, Philip Purcell and George C. Sweeney.

Dr. Anderson Again Claflin School Head

Dr. Harry V. Anderson, who left Newton in 1958 to become director of undergraduate studies at Boston University, will return as principal of Claflin School, a post he held for five years.

The Newton School Committee unanimously approved Dr. Anderson for the post on Monday night, and appointed Donald Welch to the position of co-ordinator of elementary education in the Newton Public Schools. He had succeeded Dr. Anderson as Claflin principal in 1958. Both appointments are effective on Sept. 1.

Mr. Welch, who served as superintendent of the Plymouth Schools for six years, and as a district elementary principal there for three years, will fill the leadership position of co-ordinator which has been vacant during the current school year.

He holds a bachelor of science degree from Bridgewater State Teachers College; a master's degree in education from Boston University and a certificate of advanced graduate study from Boston University. He has been a teacher and assistant principal of a junior high school in Bridgewater and also an elementary supervising principal there.

Dr. Anderson taught at two other Newton schools previously, at Newton High and the Mason-Rice School.

He holds a doctorate in education from Boston University; a master's degree from Harvard and is a graduate of Trinity College in Connecticut.

than their 1958 level presented many serious problems for the Chest Budget Committee, headed by Mr. Green.

This group has met with each agency to discuss their requests for 1960 and after long hours of deliberation recommends the grants for the agencies which were approved January 27th by the Chest Board of Directors. Each agency's situation was considered carefully, in terms of its ability to supplement Red Feather funds as well as to make possible adjustments in its services which will be necessary.

A factor which makes the situation more serious, in addition to the general trend of rising costs, is that this is the second year less funds have been made available to the Red Feather agencies. Last year grants were reduced about 2 percent from the 1958 level.

Agency grants for 1960 which total $254,600 are as follows: All Newton Music School, $3,000; Norumbega Boy Scout Council (Newton's share), $22,500; Newton Boys' Club, $13,100; Newton Community Center, $17,500; Family Service Bureau, $35,000; Newton Girl Scout Council, $19,500; Newton-Wellesley Hospital, $45,000; Rebecca Pomroy House, $9,500; St. Vincent de Paul, $11,000; Newton Visiting Nurse Association, $24,000; Newton Y.M.C.A., $40,500; Newton Community Chest and Council, $14,000.

Members of the Chest Budget Committee who have been working since the first of December to study and evaluate agency needs in Newton are as follows:

Still Time

Need $2000 More For Christmas Seal Goal

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, thanks to local contributors, is nearing its aim of the $20,000 needed to carry on its program.

Nearly $18,000 has been raised thus far by the sale of Christmas seals and there is time for contributions to be sent before the close of the campaign in March.

The continued support of the many Newton contributors has enabled the Tuberculosis Ass'n to provide chest X-rays at the Wednesday afternoon clinic at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, mobile chest X-ray units for industrial and school personnel, and general public.

It has allowed for mass media education, special educational programs for local schools, including the Newton-Wellesley School of Nursing, scholarship aid to Newton medical personnel and teachers and support of the pioneering Medical Education course for third-year medical students at Harvard, Tufts, and Boston University School of Medicine.

Newton contributors also aid local and national research projects which will eventually provide a better understanding of the how's and why's of tuberculosis and other chest diseases.

Tuberculosis is not the "White Plague" it used to be. Consumption is not a whispered word, bringing terror and dread to our souls at the very thought of it. BUT tuberculosis is still a major health problem.

In 1958 alone, Massachusetts reported over 1,500 NEW cases of tuberculosis, and 320 people died of the disease. In the United States 150,000 people know that they have tuberculosis, and almost as many do not know it—and these all have active tuberculosis.

"Active tuberculosis" means tuberculosis in a state where it is damaging to the individual and can be given to another person. Some 40 to 50 million people in the country have been infected by the tuberculosis germ, and at the current rate of developing the active disease, one out of every 20 of these may develop active tuberculosis—that is, 2,000,000 new cases in all.

There is one new case of TB every six minutes, and one death every 45 minutes. The Commonwealth of Mass. spent $11,500,000 in 1958 for treatment alone in 18 Mass. tuberculosis institutions, local health department programs, VA care, welfare payments, and loss of wages add to the cost of tuberculosis.

East Boston Tube Named 'Callahan'

The name of a heroic Newton World War II soldier killed in action has been given to the new tunnel being built under Boston Harbor between Boston and East Boston.

Gov. Foster Furcolo has signed into law a bill calling the new tube the "Lt. William F. Callahan Jr. Tunnel."

The soldier, only son of Kathleen D. and William F. Callahan of Newton, was killed on April 14, 1945, while fighting as a member of the armed forces of the U.S. in the Apennine Mountains of Italy, 14 miles north of the city of Florence. He was born in Boston on November 11, 1920.

Art For The Architects' Sake At NSHS

There may, and then again there may not be, two pieces of artistic sculpture at the entrances of the Newton South High School when it opens for students in the Fall.

But if there are, a few things are certain:

1. They will be concrete.
2. They will be vandal-proof.
3. They could be cleaned with acid.
4. They will not suggest the human form.
5. They will have a library motif.

Assistant Supt. Charles E. Brown has advised the Newton School Committee that the architects would like to install the sculpture "to carry out the architectural theme of the building."

The architects estimate the cost at $10,000, including the fee to the sculptor, Hugh Townley of Boston University, and the cost of erecting the pieces.

They also feel the money could be raised through some form of public subscription, Dr. Brown said.

Members of the School Committee said they would like to see some sketches, and even if the School Committee approves, the proposal will have to go to the Board of Aldermen for a final "OK."

Party Vote For Mayor Opposed

porting and opposing the bill also obviously do not understand what the result of its passage would be.

A number of Democrats are backing the measure, and several Republicans are opposing it.

As Newton is presently constituted, the passage of the proposed law would virtually guarantee the election of a Republican as Mayor of the city.

Under the existing setup a Democrat conceivably might be elected if he were in an election battle with two or three Republicans who were splitting up the GOP vote.

One of those who does recognize the significance of the bill and is against it is Mayor Donald L. Gibbs who is opposed to the principle of partisan municipal elections.

Members of the Board of Aldermen have scheduled a special meeting for tonight (Thursday) and at that time will decide whether they will take any official position on the measure.

A hearing on the proposal has been continued by the Joint legislative committee on cities until next Monday at the request of City Clerk Monte G. Basbas to give Newton leaders an opportunity to record themselves on the matter.

Alderman Carleton P. Merrill has announced his opposition to the bill, declaring that partisan municipal elections would be injurious to Newton.

Even the streets in the shopping and business centers of cities and towns would be less congested because of the through traffic which would be diverted onto new high-speed arteries, he said.

Commissioner DiNatale said that the road-building plan advanced by the Governor would be the most important single undertaking in the modern history of Massachusetts.

He emphasized that the vast and far-reaching program, calling for the construction of new expressways and the improvement of existing highways in every section of Massachusetts, would not involve the enactment of any new taxes or an increase in any existing taxes.

The program would be financed, DiNatale explained, by borrowing funds in anticipation of highway grants to be received from the Federal Government during the next 10 years.

much as we enjoyed writing about the tour.

Your trip was very important in relation to world affairs. You have set the first step of solving world problems. To solve these problems you can't understand them as much as if you could see them, and from the propaganda you hear it is very different if you saw it with Your Own Eyes.

Also if the rulers of other countries were to understand your tour better, it would lead to more understanding and better knowledge of what is happening in our wonderful world.

Our class is very interested in the things that are happening throughout the world and we realize and understand that you've done a great thing to help our country and make it better.

Respectfully yours,
Grade Six, Mr. Sammarco's Class.

Winter Driving Habits

The Automobile Legal Association this week criticized motorists who "either through stupidity, ignorance, or criminal carelessness are endangering lives by driving at Summer speeds on icy or snow covered highways."

We know of what this refers to having observed the driving habits of motorists in various sectors of communities and especially along Route 9 and 128.

George Dunn, ALA Safety Director, said that incredible driving practises have been noticed in recent weeks.

"A great many drivers seem to have no understanding of Winter driving hazards, despite constant warnings by the press, radio and television. They drive at high speeds and take chances that not only imperil their own lives, but the lives of others."

He pointed out that the worst habit has proved to be driving too close to the car in front. This requires sudden stops and usually results in those sickening skids which often produces multiple or "chain reaction" crashes.

Political Highlights

ple of Massachusetts want a sales tax.

An impression exists in some quarters on Beacon Hill that there is substantial sentiment for a sales tax in the Greater Boston area but that opposition to the tax increases as one travels away from the capital city.

Whether that belief is based on fact or fancy is uncertain at the present time, for there never has been any conclusive evidence as to how the voters really feel on the matter, apart from the fact that no legislator was defeated in 1958 for supporting a sales tax the preceding year.

Advocates of the impost maintain, of course that the people want it in order to check the climb of real estate tax bills and rents. Opponents insist that public sentiment is heavily against the sales tax.

The labor chieftains now talking about forcing a referendum on the question declare that one way to resolve the matter would be by a vote of the people in a Presidential election.

If they go through with their scheme and do what they now say they intend to do, their move could have significant political implications.

It would mean, for example, that Governor Furolo, who has made one fight after another for a sales tax, would be running either for a seat in the U. S. Senate or for reelection to the Governorship in a campaign in which the sales tax would be a hot issue.

Whether that would help or hurt Furolo would depend on public sentiment concerning the tax.

Two of the four candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor, former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe and Senator Graham, also have declared themselves in favor of a sales tax.

Those planning the move for a referendum aren't yet ready to divulge their entire plans, but their activity already has caused a clicking of eyebrows along State House corridors and in the legislative chambers on Beacon Hill.

One thing the proposed referendum would accomplish would be to avoid further battles in the Legislature on the sales tax issue. By a mandate of the voters the sales tax in 1961 either would be enacted or forgotten.

Money Doesn't Mean Everything

Editor, Newton Graphic

In answer to Mrs. Tanger's letter in The Newton Graphic on Thurs., January 28, I would like to say briefly that money doesn't mean everything. By paying the "cream of the crop" kind of salary, if we want the "cream of the crop" kind of teacher, doesn't always mean that you are getting the best. That goes also for everything else in life. It's the person himself. It is what he likes. What he is genuinely interested in, that gives him the greatest satisfaction that he chooses, whether it be a twenty-thousand dollar a year job or the six thousand dollar a year one.

Sincerely,
Mrs. George Chacran

About Toll Road

Editor, Newton Graphic

Dear Sir:

In connection with this matter of Toll Road or Freeway for the west of Boston, what are the answers to the following questions please?

1. Why should the west pay a toll to drive comfortably into Boston?

2. Why doesn't the Administration push for a Freeway with most of the cost taken up by Federal funds and maintained by gasoline taxes?

3. I believe that to the south and north of Boston, the voting is predominantly Democratic and to the west that it is predominantly Republican. Does that affect the issue?

4. Why doesn't Boston get into the picture and pull for a Freeway to make it easy for Brookline, Newton, Needham, Wellesley, Weston, and Natick people to patronize Boston mercantile establishments, also to stop the exodus of many small businesses from Boston? Why isn't it of paramount interest to the mayor of Boston?

5. Why doesn't Boston join with the western municipalities to get the Freeway and thereby help their own situation?

6. How is it that one individual can have so much power as to tell all the people west of Boston what they are going to have for highway facilities into Boston?

7. Couldn't the above-mentioned towns and cities band together and form a Freeway Association and build it themselves with the Federal Grant? They are all contiguous and have the same problem.

At the present time there are twenty-seven traffic lights between Arlington street and Wellesley, and hundreds of intersections besides, and a great deal of the distance is only good for single-lane traffic. How can you expect people to continue to drive into Boston for anything when they can make other arrangements?

Certainly this situation has been known for several years and it just seems to be a waiting game to see whether the west can be saddled with a toll road. I believe that in most instances toll roads become Freeways on entering big cities.

Very truly yours,
William H. Brackett

P.S. — Certainly, as individuals our hands are tied. We are helpless and when it becomes sufficiently frustrating to a sufficient number of people something can be accomplished.

Roaming Dogs

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I do not hesitate in joining the many people who dislike dogs roaming the streets.

Since the death of my husband a year ago, I have been obliged to go into business. Since I do not drive a car and it is not always possible to obtain a taxi, I walk to the M.T.A. station which is about a ten-minute walk. Usually, I am confronted by a german shepherd dog together with his friend who is about the same size. These dogs are not friendly believe me, and I might as well be the mailman. I am followed, barked at and have my feet nipped. I'm almost paralyzed with fear and occasionally feel that I shall faint and be left lying there for the wolves. I decided to take another route to the station where I was greeted by seven dogs, although smaller and perhaps not quite so vicious, was jumped upon and left in a rather muddy condition to continue on my way.

A few years ago when the dog matter was brought up, I managed to get about fifty yards from my home when a dog leaped on my back (I was wearing a fur coat). Although I was not bitten, the coast cost $90.00 to repairing a protest which I think appeared in your paper.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. J. Vincent Gray

WHOOOPS GOES THE EGO—Showing a Valentine guaranteed to deliver a crushing blow to anyone's ego is lovely Sally Anne Freeman, a former "Miss Massachusetts" title holder. Since it is Leap Year, this "off-beat" studio-type Valentine from Rust Craft Publishers, Dedham, should be popular with the men this year. It may prove a versatile weapon as many carefree, young bachelors prepare their counterattack against the opposite sex. What price old-fashioned romance?

by Your Congressman LAURENCE CURTIS • 10th District, Mass.

Washington, Feb. 10—Major interest at the start of a session is in the legislative plans and policies of the President as outlined in his State of the Union Message, his Budget Message and his Economic Report.

In his State of the Union Message President Eisenhower stressed the importance of the peace issue, saying: "... we now live in a divided world of uneasy equilibrium... mankind approaches a state where mutual annihilation becomes a possibility. No other fact of today's world equals this in importance — it colors everything we say, plan and do."

The Defense budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961, calls for about the same level of expenditures as for the previous year. But the budget for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is $600 million, nearly double the amount for the previous fiscal year.

Air defense was emphasized: "The Strategic Air Command has been authorized to begin to acquire a standby airborne alert capability, which would permit a portion of the heavy bomber force to be on continuous airborne alert if the need should arise."

In testimony before Congressional Committee military officers and retired officers have urged that the Defense budget should be increased. There has been testimony that our country will be in a dangerously weak position if this is not done. It seems unfortunate that these delicate subjects should be thrashed out in public in a way that must give comfort to the enemy and tends to make them political issues. I have confidence in the President's judgment on these military matters.

The Pleasant again gave his strong support to the fight against inflation and for the maintenance of a sound dollar.

Valentines Say "Thank You" To Bank Customers

George L. White, President of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, announced that the bank is now celebrating "Customer Appreciation Time."

"Although we appreciate our customers throughout the year," said Mr. White, "we feel it is appropriate at the Valentine season to tell them what a pleasure it is to service their banking needs every day, how much we value their continued confidence, and that we are proud to be their bank."

In announcing this special celebration, the Newton-Waltham Bank sent each of its Regular Checking Account customers a red and gold Valentine greeting with the slogan, "Thanks For Banking With Us."

Although many people might feel that a Valentine from a bank is unusual, Mr. White said they chose the Valentine season as a time when friends exchange personal greetings and the Newton-Waltham Bank believes that a special time of the year should be set apart to acknowledge their customers.

"Many of our tellers are very enthusiastic about our Customer Appreciation Time Program," said Mr. White, "because they see thousands of our customers all year long and this gives them the opportunity to thank each of them for the business we have enjoyed."

"We feel that such a program is important because the people of our community are the ones who have built our bank and will continue to be the basis of its progress."

He stated that applying the $4.2 billion surplus to debt reduction "will help ease pressures in our credit and capital markets." It is those pressures which drive up interest rates. The government had to borrow $8 billion from a limited supply of lendable funds in 1959. This year it will add up to $2 billion to the supply. This should result in "easier" money conditions. In the language of the economists, this will combat high interest rates by means of a tight fiscal policy rather than by a tight money policy.

President Eisenhower vigorously opposed overcentralization of government, saying: "We must, if we value our historic freedoms, keep within the traditional framework of our Federal system with powers divided between the National and State governments... As a Nation we take pride that our own constitutional system, and the ideals which sustain it, have long been viewed as a fountainhead of freedom." I shall support the above policies.

Newton GOP Hears Ike Record Highly Praised

Some 500 Newton Republicans attended the Lincoln Day dinner at the Normandie Room in Auburn-dale and heard George C. Lodge, Assistant Secretary of Labor, praise what has been done for labor by the Eisenhower administration.

"No administration has done more for the people of this country, for the 66 million working men and women," Lodge declared.

"No administration has urged more far-sighted improvement in social legislation. No administration special interest groups—no matter who they are," has been more adamant in its refusal to cater to any Sponsoring organizations of the dinner were the Newton Women's Republican Club, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, president; Newton Republican Club, Edward C. Uehlein president, and Newton Republican City Committee, Carleton P. Merrill, chairman. The dinner chairman was Stanley S. Lewenberg.

Mr. Lodge was introduced by President Uehlein, and the invocation was delivered by Rev. Louis E. Ford, pastor of the Myrtle Baptist Church.

The program was started by former mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., Newton's "favorite son" candidate for the GOP nomination for Governor. Mayor Donald L. Gibbs gave hearty endorsement to the Whitmore campaign and in his brief remarks renewed his pleas for a free-way from Weston to Boston.

In a report on national issues, Cong. Laurence Curtis said Vice President Richard M. Nixon recognizes that "we cannot stand merely on the policies of the Eisenhower administration, but that continued development of wise programs is essential."

Head table guests were introduced by Miss Ball of the Newton Women's Republican Club.

They included Wallace F. Forbes, chairman of Newton Republican fund-raising for 1960; Mrs. Georgia Ireland, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee; Ralph H. Bonnell of the Republican National Committee; Daniel E. McLean, chairman, Republican State Committee; Carleton P. Merrill, chairman, Newton Republican City Committee; Mrs. David M. Lodge said in his address devoted to "Myths and the Republican Party."

Lodge warned that a political campaign of "personal abuse" had already begun against Richard M. Nixon, GOP standard bearer, but that "like Lincoln, Nixon will draw strength from his attackers."

"Now I am sure that in the campaign ahead he will be subjected to insult and slander. His effectiveness and ability make it impossible for his adversaries to attack him in any other way than through deceitful, dishonest personal abuse."

"But he and we can rejoice in that abuse, because we can recall what it was that Lincoln's enemies said of him. No man in American history was insulted more viciously, more consistently and more personally."

The secretary reminded his audience of how the Eisenhower Administration "has thwarted Communist offensives around the world... has persistently sought an effective system of disarmament; initiated the Atoms for Peace plan... and has brought a rapid development of our defense establishment to meet aggression however and whenever it may come..."

The Eisenhower administration's extension of U.S. international responsibilities "to the rice fields of Indonesia, the factories and villages of India, the mines of Africa," also was outlined by the secretary, who drew a sharp distinction between the Republican party of President Eisenhower and those Republicans who "oppose flatly and insensitively any improved social legislation."

Among the evening's many highlights was the recital of the Gettysburg address by Sherin Anne Houston, 11, a pupil at the Davis School in West Newton and granddaughter of Mrs. Charles Moore, widow of a Newton Civil War veteran, who was present with her granddaughter at the head table.

Muther Speaks In Favor Of Election Bill

"Cities should be allowed to use their Assistant City Clerks as full-fledged elections administrators," urged Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., yesterday as he appeared before the Committee on Election Laws in support of a bill for that purpose filed for the Newton Taxpayers Association.

Pointing out that Assistant Clerks may perform all the functions of City Clerks except that of acting as a member of the Board of Registrars of Voters in cities such as Newton, where Assistants are appointed directly by the city council or aldermen, Muther stated that this duty should be made available to them so they could take over full responsibility for all phases of elections.

It would be less expensive, would relieve overloaded City Clerks, allow more flexibility in the use of departmental personnel and permit better in-service training for promotion within such departments, Muther asserted.

Holy Cross Glee Club Here Feb. 17

The Holy Cross Glee Club will give a benefit concert on Wednesday, February 17 at 8:15 p.m. at Newton High School to which all members of the community are cordially invited.

The concert is sponsored by the Newton Rotary Club Youth Service Committee to support its youth activities in Newton.

The Glee Club is composed of sixty trained voices singing classical, semi-classical and popular music including the Barber Shop Quartet type.

This will assist youth in several ways. First by giving college boys a chance to sing in different towns; secondly, to give local children a chance to see various colleges in action; thirdly, to raise funds for Newton youth; and lastly, to bring an evening of cultural entertainment to Newton.

Last year the Youth Service Committee sent two polio cripples to special camp. It gave many camperships to indigent children in the Boys' Club, Y.M.C.A., the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts. It supported the Eagle Scout Recognition Dinner. It filled many voids in organized charities in Newton.

Tickets may be obtained at the Newton Coop Bank, Newtonville. Phone LA 7-6337.

The president of Rotary is Alex Miller, Secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. Vice-President is Mr. Charles Smith, vice-president of the Newton National Bank.

The Youth Service Committee is served by, Dr. Carnig Thomason, Chairman and Dr. Herbert Dunphy, Vice-Chairman.

The Concert Committee chairman is Mr. Fred Fessenden of the Fessenden School.

Newtonites Testify At Payola Probe

The hearings being conducted this week in Washington concerning alleged "payola" to radio and TV personalities is of local interest because it involves past and present Newton residents.

Former WBZ disc jockey Norm Prescott, who testified Monday behind closed doors, lived in Newton until six months ago when he moved to New York City. He has become a motion picture promoter.

Paul G. O'Friel of 29 Vincent street, West Newton, is WBZ's general manager. He told the committee of the station's own payola investigation last November when complaints of payments for plugs erupted across the country.

Another Newton resident, Harry Carter, is president of Music Suppliers, Inc., the company which hearing witnesses claimed paid the financing of an automobile for Disc Jockey Dave Maynard of Lexington.

Mr. O'Friel was a former FBI agent who became general manager of radio stations WBZ and WBZA in Boston and Springfield in July, 1958. He previously was employed by the DuMont Broadcasting Corp.

Philip Barry of the Newton High School introduced Danilo Monte from Argentina and Gulsu Burke from Turkey, foreign exchange students now studying at the High School. In Argentina, parents and children participate together in many more social activities, and in Turkey whole schools go on vacation trips were some of the highlights mentioned by the students.

Supt. of School Eric N. Dennard discussed the new South High School boundaries, its staff, and expectations for a vital educational addition to the city. The new school, which will include the House plan, will strengthen the high school program in general, and both the old and the new schools will benefit in every way, he said.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

The unusual heroes of every show are the character actors; the faces that everyone knows, the names that no one can remember. Such a face belongs to Clancy Cooper, a rugged, scruffy looking Irishman whom you know as Timmo McQuinn, the saloon keeper on the ABC-TV "Lawman" series. Clancy, although he began as a rodeo bronc rider and professional prizefighter, found his way to Broadway, where he contrived over the years to come 35 productions. Previously, as a young man fresh from the University of Iowa, where he majored in the unlikely combination of geology and drama, Clancy conceived, promoted and built the now famous Kane Park Theatre in his Cleveland Heights, where he also served as director before Broadway called. Then in 1940, Hollywood gave a nod his way, and a contract led to parts in over 150 pictures and 175 TV dramas during the past two decades. In a brogue injected during his boyhood in the rip-roaring Dublin Gulch of Butte, Montana, Clancy will also talk for hours on his championship Babe Ruth League baseball team, which he somehow finds time to coach. He himself once played baseball in several pro leagues, and earlier, his sports ability won him a college scholarship. Next time you watch "Lawman", keep an eye on the wild Irishman in his name is Clancy Cooper, and he'll be around for a long, long time. And time is one factor that even the finest TV set can't overcome. Tubes do wear out, wires loosen, pictures become distorted. When this happens, call us for prompt and expert attention to your TV. Since pioneering TV in this area, our reputation has been your guarantee of reliability and dependable service.

And remember, every Friday night from 7:30 to 8:30 is open house at the new Thomas Choral transfer organ — hear it or play it yourself, you will be amazed at such versatility for a little money.

Amherst Glee Club To Give Local Concert

A. G. Asaff of Auburndale, president of the Warren Junior High School P.T.A., announced final plans today for the concert by the Amherst College Glee Club which is to be presented under the auspices of the Warren Parent-Teacher Association on Friday evening, February 26 in the Newton High School Auditorium.

Mr. Asaff and a large committee of volunteers are working on various plans for the concert. The Rev. John Ogden Fisher of West Newton and Donald L. Daniels of Waban are in charge of a dedication book which is being prepared in connection with the concert. This book will be printed in tribute to the new wing which is now under construction at Warren.

These new facilities are the first addition to the junior high plant in West Newton in over 30 years. Mr. McLeod, principal of the Warren Junior High School, is working with Mr. Daniels in the preparation of the material which will go into the book.

Hospitality for the members of the Amherst College Glee Club is being provided by the members of the Board of Directors of the Warren Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association. MDC Land Sale Opposed By Newton

The Governor's Council has taken under advisement the request of the Metropolitan District Commission to sell 130,000 square feet of land at the rear of Farwell St., Newtonville, along the Charles River, to John McDonald of 50 Farwell St., to build two dwellings.

Newton officials opposed the sale at a public hearing, which was held because Newton Park Commissioners refused to approve the sale.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Park Commissioners Robert C. Davidson and J. Howard Loughman told the council the price of $8,000 was too low, that no public bids were sought for the land and that sale would be a bad precedent. They said the City recently purchased large tracts along the river in other areas.

MDC chairman John D. Maloney said the land is an eyesore and is used only for parking trucks. He said $8,000 was the assessed valuation of the land.

Meet Your Visiting Nurse

In the short time Miss Ethelyn Vandenburg has been a member of the staff of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association, one of Newton's Red Feather agencies, she has made many friends. To the people of the Nonantum area of Newton, she is the "Lady in Blue" whose almost magic bag holds comfort and healing.

Even the language barrier does not present a problem to Miss Vandenburg, for when there isn't a child or neighbor to act as an interpreter, she uses pictures and charts to act out her instructions. She also plans to study Italian at Boston College this semester.

Although bedside care is an important part of the nursing service, Health Education is often the more pleasant side of Miss Vandenburg's work. What can be more rewarding, than to help someone plan for a baby's arrival and to know the mother-to-be has a better understanding of herself and her child. Parental patients are visited at the request of their private physician or by referral from one of the many hospitals in Greater Boston. As in all of the nursing services the doctor's orders are carried out to the letter.

Often Miss Vandenburg meets the newcomer at the Well Baby Conference at the Stearns School, where with the doctor, she will help the mother with a health plan for the baby.

And why can Miss Vandenburg do her job so well? In addition to liking her work and the people she serves, she is a graduate of St. Luke Hospital in New Bedford and has her B.S. degree from Boston University.

Rookie Goalie Stops 20 Shots As Newton Wins

The Newton High Tigers, minus five regular players, shut out Medford 2-0 in the feature game of the GBI hockey menu at the Arena Saturday, but much of the credit should go to Joe Reingold who made his first appearance in the nets.

Reingold was nothing short of sensational as he turned in 20 official stops, the majority of which were on the difficult side. Five of Newton's top players were not allowed to dress because of the fighting penalties meted out last week in the Waltham game which ended in a tie.

The win kept Newton in second place in the GBI standings with a record of 6-4-2 for 14 points, two ahead of Brookline, but eight behind league-leading Arlington.

Denis Valle scored the first Newton goal at 7:15 of the second when he banged in a Roger Urell rebound from eight feet out. Urell shot the disc off the back boards and Valle, coming in fast from the right, picked up the plug and triggered it home.

Urell accounted for the second Tiger marker in the third. He got behind the Medford defense, took a long pass from Valle, and streaked in alone to score easily on a 10-foot lift.

Newton High Court Team Drops Pair

The hard-luck Newton High basketball team dropped two more games last week in Suburban League competition to run their winless streak to five in a row.

The Tigers bowed to Watertown 66 to 49 on Tuesday afternoon at the Newton High gym, and then were edged 69 to 62 by co-league leader, Brockton High, also at the Newton gym.

Watertown, in beating Newton for the first time since 1956, snapped its own five game losing streak. They did it because Normie Hoffman and Pate Airasian combined for 53 points. Eighteen of Hoffman's 30 points came from the foul line.

Auburndale Co-op Bank Observes Golden Jubilee

The friendly Auburndale Co-operative Bank, proud of a half-century of "family bank service," held an open house Tuesday evening as part of its Golden Anniversary observance. Friends, neighbors and customers were welcomed.

Back in 1909, the bank was founded by the late Charles E. Valentine and his associates to further the development and best interests of the Auburndale they lived in and loved.

Today his son, Allard M. Valentine, lives at 45 Islington road, Auburndale and is treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors of the bank.

"From the very first this bank possessed a unique quality due largely to the warm, friendly personality of its founder," the bank said in a statement.

"In a day when most banks were formidable institutions, the Auburndale Co-operative gained a reputation for friendliness and helpful service far beyond the expectations of the would-be home-owner or small investor.

"We have depositors, shareholders and home-owners who represent second and third generations still banking with us."

"We cherish our reputation, gained over a period of 50 years of Real Co-operation and we pledge a continuance of our founder's policy for the years ahead."

The officers are: Edward B. Gray, president; Robert J. M. Fyfe, vice-president; Allard M. Valentine, treasurer; and John A. Shaw, asst. treasurer.

Directors: Charles D. Ansley, Edgar J. Boardman, George N. Chamberlain Jr., F. Forest Davidson, Stanley G. French, Robert J. M. Fyfe, Edgar B. Gray, Harry H. Ham Jr., F. Payson LeBaron, Edmund J. MacDonald, Herbert N. McGill, Allard M. Valentine and William F. White.

Cub Pack No. 18

A full pack inspection under the direction of District Commissioner Henry Kendall was held by Cub Pack 18 last week at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

Den 7, under the guidance of Mrs. Emanuel Goldman, den mother, was adjudged the winning den based on uniform and appearance. Cubs Stephen Goldman, Roger Medoff, Jonathan Linn, Jonathan Dietz, Lewis Stern, and Charles Levi received compasses along with an honor pennant to be affixed to the den flag for the year.

Flag ceremonies were performed by Den 7 with the assistance of Boy Scouts from Troop 18. A patriotic song led by Chief Den Mother Mrs. Leonard Ostrow and accompanied by Cub Bruce Masters on the clarinet concluded this phase of the meeting. Skits, developed around the theme of the month, "Cub Scout Scientist," were put on by Dens 2, 5, 6, and 7.

The following cubs received advancement and achievement awards for their work over the past month: Joseph Greenman, Peter duMoulin, Clifford Orent, Paul Naiman, Roger Medoff, Louis Stern, Gary Mescon, Jonathan Ostrow, Richard Linn, Steven Waters, William Rounseville, Michael Karis, Robert Hershon, Jason Sobel and Steven Finer.

A relay race was held prior to the serving of refreshments furnished by mothers of Den 6 under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Ostrow and Mrs. Herbert Mescon.

HEART DISEASE Your #1 ENEMY

DISEASES OF HEART AND BLOOD VESSELS

Leading Causes of Death in U. S.

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels are responsible for 54% of all deaths — more than all other causes combined.

Give to Guard the Hearts you Love

Remember these two facts: Heart disease is your #1 health enemy; the Heart Fund is your #1 defense.

Remember, also, that the Heart Fund volunteer who rings your doorbell is giving her time to safeguard your heart . . . and every heart in your family. Put out the welcome mat for her.

Just enclose your contribution in the envelope she hands you, seal it, and return it to your Heart Fund volunteer. Give generously. Give to fight heart disease!

Political Highlights

Bitter Feeling Over Dem. Delegate Slate

Selection of the so-called "official" slate of candidates for election as delegates to the Democratic national convention has resulted in the customary amount of injured feelings, irate protests, political hair-pulling and veiled threats of possible attempts to oppose the hand-picked delegates in some districts.

Such a situation usually would wind up in a series of knock-down battles within the Democratic party, with no one quite certain of exactly what they were fighting about.

In this case, however, the clashes are not likely to develop. In all probability, the protests will gradually subside, the wounded feelings will heal and the veiled threats will be forgotten.

While the prospective delegates officially were chosen by the chairman of the Democratic State Committee, in actual fact the selections for the most part were made by Senator John F. Kennedy.

Governor Furolo apparently had a voice in naming a few of the prospective delegates, but they were mostly hand-picked by Kennedy who as the leading candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination exercised the right of determining who should cast the convention votes for him from his home state.

A few practical considerations are likely to discourage any of the Democratic politicians who were overlooked from attempting to crack the "official" slate.

1. They would have difficulty defeating the candidates pledged to Kennedy.

2. If they did succeed in breaking through the Kennedy slate, they presumably would displease Senator Kennedy and then would have no alternative but to vote for him at the national convention. For a Massachusetts Democrat to support anyone else would be tantamount to committing political suicide.

3. It's going to cost a pretty fair amount of money to travel to and from Los Angeles and live there for a week while the convention is in session.

Ironically, one Democratic leader would have preferred to stay home from the convention and allow someone else to go in his place but was persuaded by Kennedy to make the trip.

Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack doesn't fly. The prospect of spending three to four days each way on the train after a wearying session of Congress wasn't especially appealing to him, and he expressed a desire to step aside and allow some air-minded Democrat to fill his seat at the conclave.

Kennedy, however, well aware of the influence McCormack has with Democratic Congressmen across the country, was anxious to have him at the scene of the convention battle in Los Angeles.

So McCormack, who has been trying to do everything possible to aid Kennedy, agreed to forego a restful vacation at home during the strife of the convention and to take the long train ride to Los Angeles in order to help accomplish Kennedy's nomination.

That was why the confusion developed when Governor Furolo was first named as the chairman of the Bay State delegation only to have a subsequent announcement that McCormack would be the leader of the Massachusetts contingent.

This is one time when Democratic differences probably will peter out without a battle to be settled by the voters.

Democratic leaders, recognizing that a clash is virtually inevitable, may try to work out an agreement under which a temporary chairman would be chosen to serve until after the primary next September, at which time the Democratic nominee for Governor undoubtedly would have a voice in picking the committee head.

Whether such an arrangement can be made is still uncertain because of the amount of dissension among committee members.

The identity of the candidates who will battle it out for the chairmanship of the Democratic organization will not be known until after the committee members are elected late in April.

Fan Blamed For $10,000 N.C. Blaze

A faulty electric fan blower in the kitchen of the Cottage Doughnut Shop at 315 Centre, St., Newton, Corner, has been blamed for a two-alarm fire Friday which drove eight persons to safety and caused damage of $10,000.

Patrolman James Jenkins, on duty at Newton Corner, led his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Thomas, 76, to safety down a rear stairway from an upper floor apartment in the brick building.

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins blamed the fan for the fire and estimated the loss.

Furcolo Confuses Experts As To His Political Plans

Governor Furcolo has Beacon Hill observers in a new state of confusion concerning his political plans.

During the first few weeks of the year both newsmen and political leaders at the State House became convinced that the always unpredictable Furcolo had his sights set on the U. S. Senate and was planning to challenge Senator Leverett Saltonstall in next fall's election.

They based that opinion on the things Furcolo said and did. Even in his annual message to the Legislature he seemed to be starting to lay the foundation for a senatorial campaign.

When one very prominent Democrat approached Furcolo and told him he was planning to run for the Senate if Furcolo sought a third term in the Governorship, Furcolo replied that he would be in the Senate fight.

Final Week Of Newton's Poll Taking

The long task of the Newton police poll takers entered its final week, and Chief Philip Purcell announced that results were some 1403 cards ahead of last year. So far 60,159 cards have been filled out after 37 days of work.

No more return calls are being made this week, so that green slips and post cards are being left when there is no one at home. The slips are to be filled out and mailed to City Clerk Monte G. Basbas at City Hall, and the cards for pre-school census mailed to the School Department.

To date the poll takers have tallied 6,837 children of pre-school age.

Charles F. Adams To Receive Annual Award

Charles Francis Adams, president of the Raytheon Company, has been selected as the recipient of the Newton Chamber of Commerce annual "Achievement Award" according to the announcement this week from Louis G. LeBlanc, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The award will be presented to Mr. Adams at the annual Achievement Dinner to be held on Wednesday, March 9 at the Totem Pole Ballroom.

Mr. Adams was born on May 2, 1910 in Boston and attended St. Marks Schools in Southboro, Mass. He graduated from Harvard in 1932. His business career began in September of 1934 when he joined in the investment banking concern of Jackson and Curtis.

In November of 1940 Mr. Adams went on active duty in the U.S. Navy serving in many capacities in both the Atlantic and the Pacific theaters. He was discharged in April of 1946 with the rank of Commander and returned to his old firm, which had become Paine-Weber, Jackson & Curtis.

Teeners Admire Cheaters, Says 9th Grade Girl

Some 600 parents and teachers at Meadowbrook Junior High School in Oak Hill heard a ninth grader maintain that junior high schoolers sometimes have to prove "how low they can stoop in order to get into a good crowd."

Fourteen-year-old Donna Guy of Newton Highlands said classroom polls disclose that "everyone admires those who have the gumption to cheat." She said parental pressure to get children into college was "the greatest threat to children's values today."

She was a panel speaker on the topic "Our Children's Values: Are they rigged?" which was moderated by Dr. Donald Davidson, principal of Weeks Junior High. He defined values as "something to do with ethics or standards"—and not rules.

Parents who give children Jaguars on their 16th birthday "help set goals of material standards," said Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, spiritual leader of Temple Emanuel and author of "Jews In Suburbia."

School Costs Alone Set Up $4 Increase In Rate

Newton is facing a substantial increase in its tax rate this year.

Present indications are that the tax rate may rise as much as $5 or $6 over last year's figure of $55.

This became evident when Mayor Donald L. Gibbs submitted a budget of $21,703,046 to the Board of Aldermen.

The budget is $1,424,633 bigger than the one presented to the Aldermanic Board by ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., a year ago and is approximately $1,800,000 larger than the budget finally approved by the Aldermen.

An increase of $1,049,875 in proposed school department expenditures is responsible for the greatest portion of the budget jump.

School costs alone would amount to about an additional $4 on the city's tax rate.

Under a ruling made by a Superior Court justice last week, neither the Mayor nor the Board of Aldermen has any authority to reduce any item in the school department budget.

Mayor Gibbs in his message to the Board of Aldermen observed that the 14.56 per cent boost in school expenses "is the direct responsibility of the School Committee to the taxpayer."

The Mayor noted that he was submitting the school de-

GEN. MICHAEL J. GALVIN

Gen. Galvin To Tour State For Defensive Alert

Brigadier General Michael J. Galvin, of Newton, will tour Massachusetts this week, serving as regional chairman of the Reserve Officer's Association, on behalf of National Defense Week.

In the course of his tour, the Newtonite, one of the youngest and most highly decorated combat generals in the Reserve Forces, will speak at numerous civic celebrations, and meetings, carrying the word of preparedness.

General Galvin has a major role in the defense picture. A graduate of the Army's Command and General Staff College, he is the assistant division commander of the 4th Infantry Division, one of the largest units in the nation.

Cronin Says Newton Group Controls Vote

The Legislative Committee on Cities has taken under advisement, following a public hearing at the State House on Monday, a bill providing for primary elections in mayoralty contests in Newton. The bill would allow the question to go on the ballot this Fall as a referendum.

Atty. Dennis Cronin of 1357 Washington street, who filed the bill, told the committee he had not intended the bill to set up contests between Republicans and Democrats in Newton.

For many years a "civic group" has controlled Newton, Atty. Cronin told the committee, and, he said, under the present system "a strong vote getter opposing the civic group could not win."

LT. JANET McMANUS

Newton WAC Is Named To New York City Post

Second Lieutenant Janet McManus, of 149 Waverly avenue, Newton, has been newly assigned as selection officer, Headquarters, First Army Recruiting District, Woman's Army Corps, in New York City.

Lt. McManus attended Newton High School, Boston College, School of Education, and graduated CLA at Boston University with an AB in Romance Languages.

The pretty local girl enlisted in the Woman's Army Corps at Boston. Upon completion of the officers' training program at Fort McClellan, Ala., she received a direct commission as second lieutenant.

9,000 Newton Older Citizens Will Benefit From New Health Program

A new public health program, geared to Newton's 9000 older citizens, will shortly be established in this city. Under the administrative direction of the Newton Health Department, a local Home Care and Geriatrics program will be organized to meet some of the health needs of the city's older patients.

The critical need for this program was brought home graphically when examination was made of current United States National Health Service reports and the latest available census figures, which revealed that there are approximately 9000 persons over age 65 in Newton.

Of these, over 6000 are the subjects of one or more chronic conditions and over 1600 have trouble getting around alone or are confined to their homes.

A co-ordinator for the new program will be appointed and an office opened in March, but The Graphic learned last night that it necessarily will take several weeks before the program will be ready to receive referrals.

The plan is the outcome of joint action between the Newton Health Department, Newton Community Council and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

Early News, Ad Copy Requested For Next Issue

Early news and advertising copy is requested for next week's edition of this newspaper. This is prompted by the Washington's Birthday holiday on Monday, February 22, observed by all departments of this newspaper.

There will be no change in the publication date of the paper but the Monday holiday will, necessarily, crowd the preparation of news and advertising copy.

All departments will work on Saturday, February 20, to process copy received. Your co-operation is solicited and will be greatly appreciated.

More than 60 "organized home care programs" have been set up in as many communities around the country since 1946.

The Newton plan will follow the same pattern of service which is to co-ordinate medical, social and rehabilitation services for older patients where care is given in the home.

The idea was launched in Newton in the fall of 1958 when the Community Council formed a committee to consider the need for such a program in this city. Representatives from official, private and voluntary agencies and civic groups comprised the committee.

The Home Care Program was recommended by the committee in a report submitted on October 29, 1959. It further recommended that the program be administered

Foreign Pupils Express Delight At American Life

Superintendent of Schools Eric N. Phil Barry, one of the co-chairmen of the AFS pro-

Aldermanic-School Board Battle Will Be Carried To State Supreme Court

A battle between Newton's Board of Aldermen and School Committee over an expenditure for out-of-state travel will be carried to the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Because the ruling in the case will have far-reaching effects in determining future policy, the Aldermen have decided to appeal a Superior Court decision and place the issues before the State's highest tribunal.

At stake in the legal fight between the two Newton elective public bodies is an $1100 bill for travelling expenses for three School Committee members who attended a national meeting of School Boards in California early last year.

On three different occasions the Aldermanic Board has refused to approve the appropriation, maintaining that the School Committee members can travel legally at public expense only when they are seeking new personnel and that they should not be able to pass on their own expenses.

The School Committee won the first round in the legal bat-

Persons responsible for home heating equipment should see that it is kept in good operating condition, is not misused, and is isolated from any danger of contact with flammable materials.

He listed the five popular goals in American life today of success, prestige, money, power and security.

"The check book is not the answer to all human problems," he averred. "We are helping to train a generation that will spell harm for us all. Parents give children impression that these things are most of what matters."

Rev. William J. Power, S.J., of Boston College High School, said "we owe it to youngsters to give them certainties which we have thought out well and wisely. We are asking of ourselves and of our children to have the wisdom of Solomon," he continued, "and sometimes that's too much to ask."

He said children's values are rigged "greatly" by parents, "somewhat" by teachers, and "enormously" by friends. Rev. Samuel Hedrick of the Boston University School of Theology warned that if "young people do not find security in approved ways, they will find it some place else."

Parents were represented on the panel by James S. Morgenthal, program chairman of the Meadowbrook Jr. High School PTA, said "we live in a peculiar society. We are all trying to compete with computers."

"The bonded debt is getting out of hand," Chairman Wood said.

"And a study should be made in order to get a full, clear picture."

Willard S. Pratt, Director of Public Works, has reported there are 43 streets on the betterment acceptance list.

King Potterby rules the roost!

The Potterbys had lots of relatives — the "just happened to be passing" type. Only trouble was — it happened every Sunday and just at the right time... dinner time!

"Brace yourself my dear," Mr. Potterby would say. "Here they come!" Smiling through clenched teeth, Mrs. Potterby would usher chattering Aunt Min into the kitchen, while Mr. Potterby, staggering from a playful slap on the back listened to Uncle Ned's tired jokes.

After they had gone, Mr. Potterby said, "This is the last straw — I'm putting my foot down!" (And he did — right through the floor. This didn't help matters much because it took him a half an hour to work his foot free.)

Ever since, the Potterbys have their Sunday dinners at the Charterhouse Motor Hotel — and love every minute of it. No hard feelings, either. The Potterbys' relatives have heard about Charterhouse, too, and soon they're all going to have a party in the Terrace Room — all 150 of them.

Now, perhaps, your Sundays aren't quite like the Potterbys. But you'll enjoy dining at the Charterhouse, any time. It's so nice for a change.

Howe Cites Need Today For More School Adjustment Counselors

The lack of opportunities for youngsters to do things for themselves is one of the greatest problems among our young people today, Harold Howe II, Principal of Newton High School, told the members of the Executive Committee of the Newton Youth Advisory Committee at a recent meeting held at the Newton Community Council office.

Mr. Howe, the first guest to be invited to discuss his ideas on the needs and problems of youth in Newton with members of the Executive Committee, had a number of suggestions and observations to make.

The relatively small number of youngsters at one end of the spectrum who get in trouble and are in touch with the compulsive agencies and services, he feels, should receive more attention during the primary and elementary grades rather than at the high school level.

Efforts to help children in the younger grades are likely to be more effective than attempts to change patterns of behavior on the secondary level. One possible way to help these problem children, he suggested, would be to provide more school adjustment counselors at the elementary school level.

Members of the Executive Committee of the Newton Youth Advisory Committee are planning to interview, in the next few weeks, a number of individuals in Newton who will be asked to give their ideas on what they consider the most pressing problems among children and youth.

The Executive Committee of the Newton Youth Advisory Committee is headed by A. Raymond Rogers, Jr. Other members of this group, which meets monthly, are as follows: David Berkman, Charles E. Feeley, Constance S. Garbutt, Leon Kowal, Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, Henry Lundquist, Robert H. Mitchell, Mrs. Arnold Mork, Mrs. Edward F. Roberts, Robert Segal, Mrs. Ralph Rosenbaum, Mrs. Harold R. Keller and George Briggs.

Spot Check Here On Thermometers

J. Ellis Bowen, Sealer of Weights and Measures for the City of Newton, announces that his office has been conducting surprise inspections of clinical thermometers for sale in Newton drug stores in order to be sure that such carry the Massachusetts seal.

State law in Massachusetts requires that clinical thermometers sold within the state carry the words "Mass. Seal" etched thereon.

Deputy Sealer Robert E. Silver, who has been making the inspections, said that in the above spot checking operation such clinical thermometers were taken from stock offered for sale, and in each instance such thermometers were found to conform to the state code.

The spontaneous inspections were resultant of the current rate of illness in the community which prompts the sale of these instruments. Foreign brands do occasionally appear on the market and are sometimes sold at peak sickness periods, such as at the present.

"I would not want a person to buy an inferior, and likely inaccurate, thermometer just because it is priced low," Sealer Bowen said.

He concluded: "We cannot be present for inspection purposes at every sale of clinical thermometers, and we know that Newton's druggists do not knowingly or intentionally offer illegal thermometers for sale, however, occasionally such do find their way into the market. In their own interests, for their own protection, purchasers should take the precaution of examining such purchases themselves at the time of sale."

HERBERT B. DOWNS

4-Year Olds To Be Admitted To Brimmer Camp

Four-year-old boys and girls will be taking part in activities at the Brimmer and May Day Camp in Chestnut Hill this summer for the first time since the Day Camp opened in 1957.

The move is being made because of numerous parental requests and the fact that the camp has the needed physical facilities.

In announcing this change, Herbert B. Downs, 34 High St., Newton Upper Falls, director, said, "The Brimmer and May Day Camp enrollment is small enough to give every boy and girl plenty of individual attention yet large enough to make interesting companionship and full team play."

The Brimmer and May Day Camp has been accepted by the American Camping Association and displays the acorn insignia which indicates to parents that this camp meets the standards of the ACA in each of eight measurable areas.

Mrs. Arthur L. Davis, of 138 Middlesex Rd., Chestnut Hill, teacher in the Brimmer and May School, will be in charge of the program which will include swimming, sports, tennis, archery, crafts and nature.

Mr. Downs is a teacher in the John W. Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre and on the board of directors of the New England Day Camping Association.

Newton High Cagers Split

Newton High School beat Cambridge Latin 61 to 55 in overtime last week to snap a five-game losing streak, but then bumped into Waltham and Allie Crane to lose 73 to 61 in two Suburban League games.

Ed Hootstein scored at the final whistle to give Newton a 55-55 tie with Latin at the Cambridge War Memorial Gym last Wednesday. And the Orange scored 6 to 0 in the overtime to clinch the victory.

Hootstein and Ron Lawrence shared top honors with 14 points each.

By edging Newton, Waltham kept alive its hopes of qualifying for the Tech Tourney. Newton gave Waltham harder competition than the final score indicates. But Crane, the Waltham right guard, could do no wrong as he tallied 30 points on 14 goals and four fouls.

Recently, however, the conviction that Furcolo will carry the Democratic banner against Senator Saltonstall next autumn has become somewhat shaky. The impression now is growing that Governor Furcolo himself is in a state of indecision and hasn't yet decided what he will do. That belief is held by persons very close to Furcolo.

One reason for the current flurry of rumors that Governor Furcolo may still surprise everyone and stand for a third term was the announcement by Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., that he will be a candidate for reelection and will not run for Governor.

O'Neill, the first Democratic Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, unquestionably had been an extremely strong contender for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination if he had sought it.

It is generally agreed by political experts that he would have been a favorite to win the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention in June if Governor Furcolo were not a candidate for renomination.

The four-term Cambridge Congressman is liked and respected by leading Democrats in all sections of the Commonwealth.

He served as Governor Furcolo's campaign manager in 1958 and succeeded in pulling together all elements of the Democratic party in the State.

But after conferring with Furcolo, O'Neill announced that he intended to remain in Congress and to stay out of the gubernatorial contest.

What transpired at the conference between Furcolo and O'Neill has not been disclosed by either man, and they were the only two in attendance.

Perhaps O'Neill had made up his mind not to run for Governor before he went to the State House and was merely paying Furcolo the courtesy of letting him know his decision before he made it public.

Or perhaps, as some State House observers suspect, O'Neill learned there is still a possibility that Furcolo may run for reelection and that this played a part in shaping his decision.

Whatever the reason may be, one thing which is certain is that O'Neill changed his mind about running for the Governorship. The only qualification he placed upon his plans six months ago, when discussing them with friends, was that he would not oppose Furcolo.

This writer still believes Furcolo will run for the U. S. Senate. But any opinion about Mr. Furcolo must be tempered with the observation that he does the unexpected as often as the expected.

The established facts in the background add to the confusion and uncertainty over the political direction in which Governor Furcolo is likely to move.

During a press conference last November, Furcolo, when asked what office he would seek this year, told newsmen that his personal preference would be to oppose Senator Leverett Saltonstall, adding that his political objective always has been a seat in the U. S. Senate.

But he went on to say that in February he would take a careful look to see how his programs were moving along and that if they were not making satisfactory progress he probably would stand for a third term in the Governorship.

February is here. The Governor's programs do not appear to be making much headway in the Legislature, and Furcolo has postponed his take-a-look date until some time in March.

Meanwhile, Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy moved into the gubernatorial field immediately after O'Neill announced he would remain on Washington's Capitol Hill, but Congressman Forbort H. Macdonald of Malden and Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg are still sitting on the fence waiting for Furcolo's decision.

Macdonald and Ward would not oppose Furcolo. So they're marking time, building as much strength as they can but not yet sure what offices they will be seeking after the Governor makes his move.

Governor Furcolo can hardly delay his decision much beyond the end of next month without placing Democratic leader with whom he is friendly in an awkward position. Whatever he eventually decides also will have far-reaching political reverberations and ramifications.

If Furcolo runs for the Senate, Macdonald and Ward will immediately jump into the scramble for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Should Furcolo decide to stand for reelection, Democratic leaders would have to look around in a hurry for someone of stature to oppose Senator Saltonstall.

That would be a problem for U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy as well as Governor Furcolo. If Kennedy becomes the Democratic nominee for President, it will be imperative that he have a Democratic candidate of strength and stature seeking election to the U. S. Senate in his home State.

Neither Kennedy nor Furcolo could afford to allow Senator Saltonstall to win reelection by default, even though Kennedy and Saltonstall are on cordial terms.

The likelihood is that they would persuade either former Boston Mayor John B. Hynes or one of the outstanding young Democratic leaders to make the fight against Saltonstall.

Another thing which would happen if Furcolo makes a third run for the Governorship is that Massachusetts would witness the unusual spectacle of a sitting Democratic Governor being opposed for renomination both at the State Convention in June and at the primary in September.

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy has formally tossed his hat into the gubernatorial ring and has made it plain that his name will be submitted to the Democratic Convention as a candidate for Governor, regardless of what Furcolo does or doesn't do.

Whether Murphy would run in the primary if he lost at the convention is uncertain. But if Furcolo bested Murphy at the convention, he still would face a primary battle with State Treasurer John F. Kennedy, who looms as a formidable contender even though he will not make a campaign speech or accept a contribution.

Furcolo, incidentally, is the only person who ever defeated Kennedy in a state-wide contest. He topped the former Gillette shipping room foreman in the 1952 struggle for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer.

Where Furcolo would have to fight to gain renomination for Governor, he could have the endorsement for U. S. Senator for the asking on a silver platter.

While politicians in both parties and the public generally are waiting for the inscrutable Furcolo to announce what he is running for, a number of prominent Democrats are being forced to delay final formulation of their own plans.

Congressman Macdonald and Secretary of State Ward both are planning to move into the gubernatorial lists if Furcolo is not a candidate but would not challenge the present Governor and would hastily change their objective if Governor Furcolo seeks a third term.

Governor's Councillor Patrick J. McDonough is in somewhat the same category, although McDonough hasn't yet definitely said that he will run for the Governorship if Furcolo doesn't. However, he is seriously considering the idea.

Altogether, the Democratic party is in a state of uncertainty which will mount until Furcolo finally moves into one contest or the other.

Draft-Lodge Move Unlikely To Work

Some Republicans have been discussing the possibility of putting on a draft-Lodge demonstration at the GOP State Convention in June. UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. is to be the chairman of the conclave, and some of his admirers feel they might start a stampede which would cause him to accept the nomination for Governor.

Actually, there is little likelihood that such a maneuver would be successful. The probability is, in fact, that it will be stopped before it gets very far advanced.

Lodge repeatedly has turned down requests and even appeals that he return home and team up with Senator Saltonstall in heading the GOP State ticket in next fall's campaign.

If he were willing to do so, he could have the gubernatorial nomination without opposition. The four candidates in the field would quickly withdraw if Lodge showed any willingness to stand for the Governorship.

The fact is that Lodge obviously has his eyes on the Vice Presidential nomination, and there is more than an outside chance that he will be picked for second place on the Republican national ticket.

If Lodge accepted the endorsement for Governor, he either would have to forego the Vice Presidential nomination or place the Bay State in somewhat the same dilemma which developed when the late Attorney General George F. Fitzgerald died suddenly in the late summer of 1958.

Barring the most unexpected developments, Massachusetts Republicans will select their candidate for Governor from former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe of Winchester, Republican House Leader Frank S. Giles of Methuen and State Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton.

Newton Players In Three-Night Comedy Program

The Newton Players will present "Gramercy Ghost" at the Pierce School in West Newton, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 25, 26 and 27, at 8:30 p.m.

The three act comedy is set in the area of Gramercy Park where Nancy Willard, the heroine, is bequeathed one Nathaniel Coombes under the will of an old friend. Nathaniel turns out to be the not quite dead spirit of a young Revolutionary soldier doomed to roam Gramercy Park instead of joining his comrades in heaven. Leading roles in the play include Mildred Mistovich as Nancy Willard, William Kneeland as Parker Burnett, Paul B. Benjaminson as Charles Stewart and Russ Baker as Nathaniel Coombes. Other members of the cast include Edna White, Maudyve Campbell, Joseph Connelly, Stuart Briggs, Herbert Fraser, Eleanor Bartlett, Helen Pierce and Gay Cornell. Local Artist's Abstractions Receive Acclaim

Abstract paintings by Frank Jasset, of 80 Walnut Park, Newton, now on exhibition in Boston at Gallery, 10 Arlington street, are attracting considerable attention and acclaim.

A review by Dorothy Adlow in the Christian Science Monitor describes Mr. Jasset's titles as provocative: "The High Color of Geometry," "Optical Refractions," and "The Square Asteroid."

One of the most compelling of his paintings is "The Martian Christ." This is the result of about 40 years of painting by the Newton artist. It is both traditional and modern abstraction, and timely considering this rocket and nuclear space age.

This painting had been on exhibition since December 19 until it was removed recently to the Capri Theatre, in Boston, where it is on display in the lobby.

Cars An Oddity In 1896 At Circus

The automobile was such a novelty in 1896 that the Barnum and Bailey Circus displayed one as its main oddity. Today there are more than 80 million passenger cars traveling on the world's roads, according to World Book Encyclopedia. And about 56 million are owned by Americans. That's enough cars to take every man, woman and child in the U.S. for a Sunday drive at one time . . . with room left

Here are some other interesting facts about automobiles:

England tried to discourage the use of cars in 1865 by passing the Red Flag Law. The law required that someone carrying a red flag in the daytime and a lantern at night walk ahead of any steam carriage traveling on the highways.

The first president to ride in a car was William McKinley. He was taken to a hospital in an electric ambulance after being shot by an assassin in 1901.

A Cadillac was driven up the steps of the Capitol in Washington, D.C., in 1905 to prove the car's power.

The average car lasted 6.5 years in 1925. Today it lasts more than 12 years. The average 1925 car traveled 25,750 miles before it was scrapped. The average car today travels 110,000 miles.

Committee and Mrs. Robert Hull of West Newton, registration chairman. Volunteers in the "Recruit for '60" program will be carrying out at a precinct level the program of the G.O.P. national committee. They have been instructed to remind eligible unregistered voters of the fol-

Eligible residents who need transportation to City Hall in order to register or who wish further information are invited to contact any members of the Republican registration team.

Citizens 21 years old by election day, who can read and write their names, who have lived in Massachusetts for one year and in the City of Newton for six months prior to the election in which they wish to vote, may register.

A warning was issued by the G.O.P. leaders to remind Republicans to reregister who have moved since their last registration, who have changed their names through marriage or court decree, who have been in the service and voted while away on a temporary registration, or who were not listed in the most recent Jan. 1 police listing.

Already at work establishing registration teams in their own neighborhoods are Mrs.

Discussions On Foreign Policy Are Held Weekly

The "Decisions: 1960" review of American foreign policy has begun with a discussion of "Communist Timetable for 1960 — What Odds?" Mrs. John W. Locke and Mrs. Ernest Kuebler, local "Decisions: 1960" Community Co-chairmen, announced today.

Other topics to be covered in the eight-week discussion series include current political and economic crises in Cuba, India, the Middle East, the new African countries, Red China and divided Europe, as well as the response of United States foreign policy to these situations.

In Newton the "Decisions: 1960" program is sponsored by the World Affairs Council, of which Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst is chairman. More than 40 community chairmen are active in Eastern Massachusetts towns. The World Affairs Council of Boston, which works in cooperation with the Newton Council, reports that approximately 150 discussion groups have been formed in the Greater Boston area. More than 50 high schools, public, private, and parochial, are including "Decisions: 1960" in their social studies curriculum.

Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Kuebler emphasized that it is not too late to join a discussion group, and urged all those interested to call them at DE 2-5638 or DE 2-4867. Fact Sheet kits, giving concise, non-partisan background on the eight topics, are available at the Newton Centre or the Newtonville Library.

The "Decisions: 1960" program is designed not only to promote informed public opinion on foreign policy issues, but also to provide a means whereby these opinions are heard in Washington. At the end of each discussion, participants fill out opinion ballots which are tabulated by the Boston World Affairs Council, and then sent to the State Department, Massachusetts Congressmen and Senators, the Republican and Democratic National Committees, and to all announced presidential candidates. The chairmen pointed out that completed ballots must be returned promptly to the World Affairs Council, 10 Arlington street, Boston, or they will have to be omitted from the tabulation.

McMullen was trained to lay out and present various views of objects to scale as working plans for such items as bridges, airfields, buildings and machines.

New Program

by the Board of Health with assistance coming from the Community Council.

Results of a recent study also were announced which revealed that the United Community Services of Greater Boston listed 8448 Newton residents who were admitted to hospitals in the Boston area in one year. The Newton Wellesley Hospital received 50.6 percent of these cases.

The present program, among other things, will attempt to see how the services of several hospitals can be coordinated with those of the local community health and welfare agencies to meet the needs of long term patients in their homes.

The Home Care Program will help patients and their families to make better use of their own and the community's resources. One of the salient findings of the Newton Community Council's committee was that Newton was very well supplied with services designed to meet various needs of patients with long term illness.

The program should facilitate the movement of patients between hospital, home and nursing home when transfer seems most desirable. For many of the problems referred to the Home Care office the program will probably not be a suitable solution and it is anticipated that many medical and social problems, particularly in regard to older people, will be brought to the new division of the Newton Health Department.

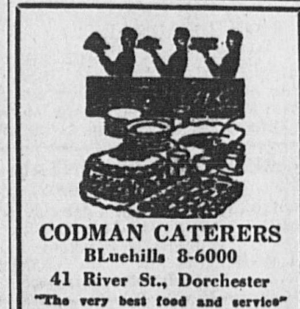

For these reasons, it was deemed desirable to plan for a geriatric counseling and information service in addition to that of a Home Care Program.

The committee further recommended that the program be administered by the Board of Health since this was a logical place for its location and since the Massachusetts Department of Public Health had indicated that it was prepared to give the Newton Board of Health financial support for the operation of an approved community Home Care Program.

The committee further recommended that the Newton Community Council continue to maintain an interest in the program and render any services which it was able to offer in promoting the project. These recommendations were approved by the governing board of the Newton Community Council.

Girls Pass Swim Tests

The second eight-week term of girls' swimming instruction at the Newton YMCA concluded with sixteen girls passing tests in two levels of the National YMCA Aquatic Program. Dr. Lawrence Macdonald, chairman of the Youth Building Program Committee, reported that in addition to the girls who passed their tests, most of the sixty-seven other enrollees showed increased confidence and progress in their swimming ability.

Dr. Macdonald also stated that many of the girls will continue their swimming instruction during the third eight-week term which began last Friday, February 12.

On each day of instruction during the term, there are three classes which cover the entire range of swimming skills from the beginning swimmer through the five levels of the National YMCA Aquatic Program. These progressive skills include such things as various basic swimming strokes, different tests of water confidence and endurance in varying distances, underwater skills, and diving.

Persons achieving these skills have excellent preparation for taking a Life Saving course.

The nine girls who completed their beginners' requirements displayed water confidence and the ability to swim 60 feet in water over their heads. Introduction to the backstroke and underwater swimming were some of the new skills accomplished by the seven girls passing the minnow test.

Passing their beginner's test were Judy Blomquist, Joanne Bonadio, Iitiko Varga, Heidi Kasper, Barbara Staszky, Jean Trumble, Deborah

HEART DISEASE Your #1 ENEMY

Give to Guard the Hearts you Love on Heart Sunday, February 28

Remember these two facts: Heart disease is your #1 health enemy; the Heart Fund is your #1 defense.

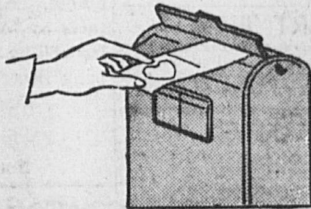

Remember, also, that the Heart Fund volunteer who rings your doorbell is giving her time to safeguard your heart . . . and every heart in your family. Put out the welcome mat for her.

Just enclose your contribution in the envelope she hands you, seal it, and return it to your Heart Fund volunteer. Give generously. Give to fight heart disease!

If you can't be home Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28

ATA Safety Director In Warning Re: Cold Remedies

That pill a driver takes for his cold just before getting into his car can be as dangerous as a double shot of whiskey. That's the warning given today by Goley D. Sontheimer, director of safety of the American Trucking Associations.

The danger lies in the fact that many of the medicines sold for the relief of cold symptoms have a tendency to cause drowsiness, Mr. Sontheimer said.

"In this season of the common cold," he said, "drivers must be alert to the possibility that the effects of cold medicines may cause them to lose control of their vehicles.

"Under federal law, any medicine which may cause drowsiness must display a warning on the label," Mr. Sontheimer pointed out. "Although many of these drugs may be obtained without a prescription, such warnings should not be taken lightly."

The problem is complicated, the ATA Safety Director said, by the fact that the drugs have different effects on different people. Furthermore, the same drug may affect the same person differently at different times.

"Some people do not feel any side effects whatever from cold pills or other drugs, while other people are unable to keep awake after taking them. By the same token, a person may not feel drowsy late in the afternoon after taking the pills but will another time," he said.

Mr. Sontheimer concluded: "Never exceed the recommended dosage of any drug. Watch to see if you notice any side effects such as drowsiness or lightheadedness. If you do, don't drive."

89th Annual Flower Show At Wonderland

Acacias, amaryllis, orchids, roses and carnations are some of the many kinds of glamorous flowers that will greet visitors, when the 89th Annual New England Spring Flower Show comes to Wonderland Park in Revere, March 13 through 20.

Among the outstanding exhibits will be a Tree Peony Garden that will show how these exotic flowers, popular with visitors in flower shows in recent years, can be used properly in a New England setting. Marjorie Vander Pol of Fairhaven, Mass., is the exhibitor.

A Tree Pruning Exhibit by the Arnold Arboretum will show how trees can be pruned by displaying both good and poor examples of tree pruning. For begonia lovers there will be a modern Begonia Sunroom in which 25 kinds of begonia house plants will be shown. This exhibit will be carried out by the Bessie Buxton Branch of the American Begonia Society.

Showy Hybrid Amaryllis, hybridized and raised from seed in their own greenhouses in Brookline, will be displayed by the Gardner Museum of Boston. This year, Mrs. B. Preston Cutler of Hamilton, Mass., is doing a small Formal Garden with a terrace planted with azaleas, rhododendrons and tulips.

In its new setting at Wonderland Park, the Flower Show has plenty of free parking space, though it can be reached easily by MTA at Scollay Square in Boston.

This year for the first time the Flower Show will run for eight consecutive days, rather than seven, from Sunday, March 13, through Sunday, March 20. The hours on opening day are 1 to 10 P.M.; from Monday through Saturday, March 14-19, 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.; and on Sunday, March 20, 1 to 10 P.M.

AAA Statement On 3 Percent Sales Tax

The American Automobile Association strongly objects to the proposed 3 percent sales tax on motor vehicles. Motor vehicles should be exempt from this tax.

AAA has said many times before—and will continue to say as long as necessary—that the motorist has become the tax collector's greatest victim. There are more taxes on the automobile than there are nuts and bolts in it. Motorists pay 24 cents out of every dollar to the tax collector.

Before the Committee on Taxation adds 3 percent to the excessive tax burden already being carried by one and a half million Massachusetts motorists, these other taxes on the automobile should be remembered:

- *Federal excise tax on the manufacturer's list price—equal to a 7 percent sales tax.
- *5¢ per gallon State gasoline tax and 4¢ per gallon Federal gas tax together equal a 48 percent sales tax.
- *State excise tax of $66.96 per $1,000 valuation, or equivalent to a 6 percent tax.
- *Federal excise taxes on parts and accessories, equals an 8 percent sales tax.
- *Federal excise taxes on:
 - Lubricating oil, equal to a 15 percent tax;
 - Tires, equal to a 6 percent tax;
 - Tubes, equal to a 10 percent tax.

A three percent sales tax on motor vehicles to relieve the real estate tax is not only unfair but absurd. The motorist already pays twice the tax the real estate owner pays. Motor vehicles are assessed at twice the amount of real estate. Since, 1946, for example, the motor excise tax revenue has increased 12 times, while real estate tax collections have only a little more than doubled.

Victim of the holdup was Loreto Tocci, 62, of Waltham, who had been carrying payrolls for 30 years without a mishap.

"If I had my gun with me they never would have got away with it," he told police. He had drawn the money from the Nonantum Branch of the Newtonville National Bank, and stopped near 42 Colonial ave., to pick up an object which fell from his car.

He looked up to see a masked man carrying a rifle standing near the open door of a car which apparently followed him from the bank. A second man was at the wheel of the car.

"Throw the money in the car," commanded the man with the rifle.

Mr. Tocci said he complied and the men jumped into the

Uniformed Lassies Prepare For Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale

Thousands of pretty little lassies in brown and green uniforms will be seen throughout the city beginning next Tuesday, March 1, as they take orders for the well known Girl Scout cookies. The annual sale will continue through March 14; the cookies will be delivered to purchasers between March 28 and April 5.

Seventy thousand boxes of cookies is the quota for the big annual sale, if its success is to be insured.

This year a new, unique type of cookie, here-to-fore unknown, will take its place among four other traditional varieties. They are the new STAND-UP cookies cut in the shape of tents, trees, log cabins, canoes, dancing Girl Scouts, etc., with which camp scenes can be built. The other four kinds will include the vanilla, assorted sandwich, double fudge-filled, and the ever popular cookie-mints.

Cookie sale profits will be distributed in four areas of need: (1) New camping equipment for Camps Mary Day and Wabasso and keeping camp buildings and equipment in good condition. (2) Funds for camperships (camp scholarships) which make a camping experience possible for many

Democratic About-Face Holds Gibbs In Senate Until End of This Year

Steal Gun, Rifle, In Burglaries

A rifle and a shotgun were stolen from a private residence during a series of burglaries in Newton under investigation by police during the past several days.

From the home of Joseph Mattison at 32 Suffolk road, Shesnut Hill, burglars obtained a .22 calibre rifle and a 10 gauge shotgun. Also listed as missing were two swords.

Some wine was taken from the refrigerator and left on a table and some candy was eaten by the intruder, according to investigators. Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in a cellar door, or in a dining room window.

Other breaks were in the residences of Dr. Raymond Johnson at 1082 Walnut St., Newton Highlands

Action To Gerrymand Causes Step

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will continue to serve as Newton's State Senator as well as chief municipal executive for the balance of the year, The Graphic learned today.

That means that no special election will be held this year to choose a successor to Gibbs in the upper chamber of the State Legislature.

Gibbs' resignation, which was submitted some time ago to Republican Senate Leader Fred I. Lamson, will not be presented to the full Senate.

The explanation behind the shift in Gibbs' plans is that Democratic chieftains in the Senate have changed their minds about making a fight to revamp the senatorial districts.

This is the latest and presumably the last development in the chain of events which has influenced Gibbs' decision on whether to remain in or resign from the Senate.

Mayor Gibbs originally de-

Drop Here In Police Poll List

Police Chief Philip Purcell has reported a drop of 402 from last year in the number of cards in the 1960 Newton police poll listing.

The listing crew, in 41 days of work, completed 64,998 cards, compared with 65,400 cards done last year in 42 days. In 1958, the poll listers completed 65,510 cards in 46 days.

The tally this year showed 7542 pre-school children; in 1959 the total was 7976 and 7915 in 1958.

3 Patrolmen Added To Newton Force

Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell has appointed two men to the patrolmen's ranks, and reinstated a third.

The appointees were Paul J. Fitzsimmons, 27 of 1095 Trapelo Rd., Waltham, and Carmelo S. Panzera, 29, of 104 Westland Ave., West Newton. Both are veterans of the armed forces and were appointed from a Civil Service list which is now exhausted.

Reinstated was Edward J. Foley Jr., of 21 Elliot St., Newton Highlands. He was appointed to the department on Nov. 25, 1951, but resigned last year to move to Florida.

1700 Volunteers Poised For Heart Sunday Drive

The annual door-to-door solicitation of Newton homes will again launch "Heart Sunday" in this city with 1700 volunteer workers, the largest corps ever to work for the cause locally, taking part in the city-wide event next Sunday, February 28 from noon until 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Clifton H. Curtis, general chairman of the Heart Fund campaign in the city, has asked that local citizens welcome their Heart Fund neighbors as they call next Sunday afternoon.

"Upon the outcome of the Heart Fund campaign in Newton, and other communities throughout the nation, rests a decision vital to all of us," advised Mrs. Curtis.

Safe Area Sought For Small-Fry To Operate Gas-Driven Go-Karts

The mushrooming of a new endeavor among the small-fry is reaching the proportions of presenting some sort of a problem to many communities, namely, a safe area where the young owners and operators of the new small gasoline-driven Go-Karts can drive them in safety.

These vehicles are capable of respectable speeds and are not permitted on the public streets or main highways, for obvious reasons. In fact, there is a segment of the public which feels that little vehicle should be licensed because of their gas-propelled power.

However, a Newton mother has presented a concise picture of the problem in a letter to this newspaper. Its contents are worthy of thought and consideration by Newton officials. The letter, from Mrs. Grace A. Forges, of 22 Woodward street, follows:

There are a number of boys in Needham, Newton and surrounding areas, who have made or purchased within the last year, Go-Karts with gasoline driven engines. These boys have learned from the start how to assemble various mechanical parts and have learned from their own experience a good deal about how cars are made—gearing, revolutions, RPM, locomotion, etc.

About Face Changes Mayor's Plans

sired and planned to resign from the Senate at the start of the year when he assumed office as head of Newton's city government.

He quickly changed his plans, however, when a special legislative committee produced a proposed Gerry-mander of the State Senate districts which would have split Newton into two senatorial sectors.

As a result of the manner in which Newton would have been hit by the proposal, Gibbs announced that he would remain in the Senate and would not resign until after the redistricting measure had been voted upon.

Democratic leaders in the Senate subsequently indicated that they were dropping any attempts to push through a Gerry-mander bill this year.

Gibbs, in effect, was assured that he could go ahead and resign from the Senate in the knowledge that no Democratic fight would be made to revamp any of the political districts of the Commonwealth at the present legislative session.

That prompted Gibbs to write out his resignation from the Senate and give it to Republican Leader Lamson with the understanding that Lamson would file it if he was satisfied there would be redistricting battle in the Senate during 1960.

At about that time a number of the Democratic Senators from marginal districts, who might lose their seats if a Republican tide developed, began to urge their party leaders to draft a redistricting plan which would entrench them a little more strongly.

Democratic Senate President John E. Powers told his fellow Democratic Solons that he would not go along with the redistricting proposal advanced last December but that he would support one he considered fair and reasonable.

A committee headed by Democratic Senate Leader Maurice A. Donahue of Holyoke is now working on a new plan for changing the Senate districts.

An agreement has been reached that no attempt will be made this year to revamp the congressional districts or to reapportion the seats in the House of Representatives.

But it is pretty definite that a plan will be devised for changing the Senate districts in order to give the Democrats a stronger hold on that body.

While the Democrats have not revealed the strategy they contemplate, they have indicated that they will probably hold the measure until near the end of the legislative session.

If Gibbs should resign from the Senate, the likelihood is that the Democrats would submit the redistricting bill between the time of his resignation and the election of his successor.

If he remains in the Senate until the redistricting bill is acted upon near the close of the session, there would not be time to elect his successor.

Consequently, Gibbs appears to have no alternate but to serve out his Senate term,

St. Bernard's Sets $500,000 Goal For Building Minimum

Rt. Rev. Bernard S. O'Kane, pastor of St. Bernard's Church in West Newton, announced today a minimum goal of half a million dollars in the school expansion fund campaign.

The purpose of the campaign is to raise funds to begin construction of a new high school to accommodate both boys and girls, also enlarge the present grade school with four additional classrooms and enlarge the present convent to allow living facilities for 30 Sisters.

Msgr. O'Kane emphasized that the $500,000 figure represented the bare minimum needed to proceed with the building project.

"A more realistic and practical figure would be $750,000 or more," Msgr. O'Kane said.

Actual solicitations will not begin until Sunday, March 6 following Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 1:30 p.m. in St. Bernard Church. It is expected that most of the pledges will be obtained on that day with the balance completed in the next couple of days.

First payments on pledges are not due until Sunday, March 20th, and are payable over a three-year period. Pledges can be paid either weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

The campaign organization, which started with 25 general chairmen, will eventually reach a total strength of 650 men of the parish when completed.

ONE MAN'S "PROBLEM"

too much Business!

This specialty store owner has good reason to smile. A few short months ago he almost sold out. Growing competition, the need for wider variety and better facilities kept profits dwindling. Today, his only "problem" is keeping up with the customers. What happened? A wise friend suggested a Small Business Loan at NEWTON-WALTHAM, the bank many New Englanders depend on. A chat with a courteous Small Business Loan Officer revealed how a moderate loan could give him a fresh start—almost double his business in no time at all. The payments, arranged in 24 convenient monthly installments, he found surprisingly reasonable.

The marriage of Mrs. Jean Boardman Lowery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Boardman of Auburndale, to Dr. David Alan Grainger, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Alan Grainger of Sydney, Australia, took place recently at the Appleton Chapel, Harvard University.

A reception followed at the Harvard Faculty Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of pale blue Italian satin. She carried her prayer book topped with white orchids and ivy.

Mrs. John A. Kreider of Waverly was the bride's only attendant. She carried a crescent bouquet of white poinsettia, peacock feathers and ivy with her sapphire blue taffeta gown.

Serving as best man for his sister's groom was Edgard A. Boardman of Auburndale. Ushering were Dr. Sigmund S. Socarsky of Toronto, Canada, and Dr. Ronald J. Gibbons of Brookline.

Rawson Explains Tax Vote

Newton Rep. George E. Rawson said today the sales tax "is the only tax which everybody pays and from which none escape."

If Gov. Furcolo's latest attempt to obtain legislative approval of a modified sales tax had been successful, the Newton solon said, Newton's real estate tax would have been reduced by $8.30.

"In my opinion, the sales tax bill while not perfect, was right," he maintained.

"My vote for or against a bill before the House is not guided by the number of votes that may be gained or lost, the favor or antagonism of any pressure group of the popularity or unpopularity that may be at stake."

Rep. Rawson was the only legislator from Newton who voted for the sales tax last week on Monday evening when it was killed in the House by an overwhelming vote. He was one of the few GOP members who voted for the sales tax.

"It is very evident that the sales tax was necessary," the Newton solon maintained.

"The costs of local government have risen to a point where local real estate taxes have become . . . a millstone around the neck of the home owner, the rent payer and the businessman."

He said the sales tax would have aided every city and town, especially Boston. He maintained that "if Boston goes down the drain the credit of this commonwealth is in imminent danger of deteriorating."

Heart Sunday-

The Newton chairman pointed out that continued research in the constant fight against the nation's No. 1 killer depends largely upon the generosity of those whose doorbells are rung on Sunday.

"The relationship between Heart Fund dollars at the doorstep, Heart Fund research in the laboratory, and lives saved in local hospitals and at local bedtimes, is more direct than many Newton people realize," Mrs. Curtis said in asking, through The Graphic, for a city-wide response to the visits of volunteers on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Curtis said that the 1700 Newton "Heart Neighbors" will make their Sunday matinee visits regardless of weather conditions.

She asked that all Newtonites receive them with "warm gratitude" for the time, energy and devotion they are giving to this cause, so that we may all enjoy longer and healthier lives.

Among key figures working for the success of the Heart Fund campaign in Newton are, Mrs. Vaughan Monroe, clubs and organizations chairman; and Howard L. Rich, 269 Franklin street, architects section chairman, and Harry Levin, 146 Hammond street, president of Colman Levin Company, Boston, floor covering chairman for the 1960 Commerce and Industry division of the Heart Fund campaign.

Heading three other major wings in the Commerce and Industry division of the campaign are Herbert W. Kestle, 1289 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, section chairman for national banks and trust companies; Paul I. Beane, 66 Daniel street, Newton Centre, section chairman for food brokers, and Hyman Yanco, 46 Grey lock road, section chairman for shoe fabrics.

Mr. Kestle, vice president and personnel officer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has served for 20 years with the Boy Scouts of America. He is an ex-president of the Newton Bankers Association, and a former vice chairman of the Personnel Managers Club and the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Beane is president of the Boston Food Brokers Association, and serving his second consecutive year as food brokers section chairman.

Mr. Yanco is associated with the Continental Textile Corporation, Boston.

John Balkus, of the Newton National Bank, 447 Centre street, is serving as treasurer of the Heart Fund campaign in Newton.

In These Days Of Inflation

The public, in these days of inflation, is more than ever quantity conscious. The increased cost of living, and the difficulty of making income and expenses balance, the need to stretch the dollar, has caused most consumers today to select purchases with the thought of getting the most for that dollar. High prices are a most convincing argument that ounces, pints, quarts, and even inches, are dollars and cents.

It is important that how much you get is equal to how much you pay. To receive short weight or measure is the equivalent of receiving counterfeit money in change. To give short weight or measure is a two pronged evil for it not only cheats the purchaser, but provides a means for unfair competition by offering a means of underselling an honest competitor.

The American system, under the stimulus of our profit system, provides the world's highest standard of living. This high level of economic activity in turn depends upon small unit profits of mass productivity and distribution. With these unit profits being small, it is vital that a merchant not give long weight or measure, for to do so is to give away his profit, his means of livelihood, and over a period of time to invite bankruptcy. Nationwide, neither short nor long weight or measure can be tolerated.

In Newton, the Department of Weights and Measures carries out the major responsibility for checking scales and meters to ascertain their accuracy, and spot checks a myriad of commodities offered for sale to insure full net quantities. Therefore, this department helps in determining whether full value is received, while protecting the seller against loss.

National Weights and Measures Week, being observed from March 1 to 7 emphasizes that standards of weights and measures, together with the enforcement of laws relating to such are a necessary part of economic progress and provide an equal degree of protection to all who engage in or sell commodities.

and influence behind one of the other Democratic aspirants for the Governorship.

The antipathy between Furcolo and Murphy was not born from their clash over the sales tax, as many persons believe. It goes all the way back to 1954 when Murphy and Furcolo headed the Democratic State ticket in Massachusetts, Furcolo as the nominee for the U. S. Senate, Murphy as the candidate for Governor.

Both Furcolo and Murphy were defeated in that '54 election, but Furcolo came closer to ousting Senator Saltonstall than Murphy did to upsetting former Governor Christian A. Herter.

While Furcolo never said so publicly, persons close to him revealed that he believed he might have been elected to the U. S. Senate if he had a stronger gubernatorial running mate. Whatever thoughts Murphy had in that campaign he kept strictly to himself.

When Furcolo was endorsed for Governor by the 1956 Democratic State convention, he tried to persuade several different prominent Democrats to step into the race for Lieutenant Governor.

Governor's Councillor Patrick J. McDonough, now mentioned as a possible candidate for Governor, was one. Edward J. McCormack, Jr., present Attorney General was another. Former State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley of Abington was a third.

Furcolo was still looking around for someone to back for second place on the Democratic State ticket when Murphy gained the endorsement of the convention. Needless to say, the behind-the-scenes maneuvers at that conclave did nothing to strengthen the bonds of friendship between Furcolo and Murphy.

The two men, both defeated in 1954, were winners in 1956 and again in 1958. In 1959 Murphy publicly opposed Furcolo's sales tax bill, as he did again this year. During the past 12 months the breach between Furcolo and Murphy has steadily widened.

At a press conference not long ago, Governor Furcolo, when asked how he justified advocating a sales tax in view of the fact that the platforms of the Democratic State Conventions in 1956 and 1958 opposed a sales tax, remarked that nobody ever paid any attention to platforms.

Regardless of what the merits of the sales tax dispute may be, Furcolo never issued a more truthful statement.

Platforms are something which are mumbled through at conventions. Few persons, aside from those who draft the platform planks, know what they say.

Most delegates to a State convention are occupied with other matters when the platform is being read. Those who do pay attention are allowed no real opportunity to vote for or against anything in the platform. The presiding officer invariably hammers down his gavel as soon as the platform is read and announces that it has been adopted.

Any delegate who might desire to oppose it is ignored. Most delegates are too anxious to get on with the business of endorsing a State ticket to worry much about what is or isn't in a platform.

Lieutenant Governor Murphy, however has sent what he terms a memorandum to the delegates to the last Democratic State Convention containing what is obviously a thinly veiled attack upon Governor Furcolo's assertion that nobody pays attention to party platforms.

"How important is a party platform?" asked Murphy who then asserted that the delegates to the 1958 convention "gave of their time, energy and intelligence to create and approve a platform" and that "every word and thought that went into that platform was considered, debated, voted on—and approved."

That is stretching the facts almost to the breaking point. However, Mr. Murphy went on to say that "to treat lightly the importance of our party platforms is to diminish the people's respect for the officials they elect, the party system and our democratic form of government."

As Mr. Murphy war-ned up to his subject, he said that "the really shocking thing about today's situation is that some of

He said that the same courses would be offered at both schools providing that enough students are interested in the respective courses. The assignment of teachers has been prepared, but not officially released. About half of the specialized and experienced teachers and department heads will go to the new South High School.

Mr. Howe remarked that the academic rating of Newton High School will in no way be harmed. Scholarships will be given to the school or schools by the choice of the donor group. Elections will be held for both schools this coming spring to assure both schools of student leadership. Committees and clubs will be formed after a student government is formed.

The two PTSA's will be independent, although both will discuss mutual problems and plans. The South High School will be in class A for some sports and class B for others.

Sophomores and juniors have been planning and registering for the coming year. On February 9, students received the pamphlet "Opportunities in Secondary Education". On February 18, students filled out their IBM registration cards.

Following vacation, sophomores will take SCAT tests. The rest of the school will have two study periods until the tests are completed. Juniors and seniors took these tests in their sophomore year.

Approximately 200 juniors in Curriculum I will take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test at Newton High School on Saturday, March 19. This is the sixth annual exam administered by the National Merit Scholarship Program. These students will receive their scores in the fall of 1960. At that time the principal will notify those students who have become semifinalists.

Sealer Bowen Stresses Value Of Accurate Weights and Measures

"Weights and Measures administration plays a vital role in the everyday lives of each of us," declare Newton's Sealer of Weights and Measures J. Ellis Bowen and Deputy Sealer Robert E. Silver in feting 'National Weights and Measures Week' March 1 to 7.

Sealer Bowen is heading up the local observance of National Weights and Measures Week in Newton, and which will be observed throughout the nation in commemoration of that memorable March 2 in 1799 when a youthful and busy Congress enacted the first national weights and measures law.

"Weights and measures administration," said the sealer, "is one of the most important activities of local government."

"Ever consider what a muddle the world would be in if we didn't have such prosaic regulators as standard units of weights and measures? Commerce would be baffled... like working blindfolded. How to compound, to establish the proper ratio for product ingredients? How to barter goods? How to facilitate shipping?"

"The next time you buy a couple of pounds of prepackaged hamburger, look at the exact weight marked on the cellophane wrapper. On the way home you may stop at a drug store to pick up a bottle of medicine, and then drive in to a service station to have the gas tank filled.

"Each time you have been protected, as has your wallet, by a seldom seen but constantly vigilant weights and measures inspector. Periodically he checks the accuracy of the scales, and the pump meters which give you full value for your dollar."

Said the sealer, "When the housewife buys a pound of meat, or the motorist a gallon of gasoline, or a passenger's taxi ride is measured by a meter, they depend upon the accuracy of measurement. But scales and meters, like other pieces of machinery, can make mistakes when they are worn out, have been abused, or in many instances when used by unskilled persons. That's where the work of one of our city's most colorful but least understood departments, that of weights and measures, comes into the picture.

"Quietly, methodically, your weights and measures department guards the consumer, and with the same precision keeps the producer, and the merchant, from losing thousands of dollars through over-weight or over-measurement each year."

"A penny here and there," said Sealer Bowen, "may seem infinitesimal. But they add up like sand in your shoes. A mistake of one ounce in a pound of a produce sold for $1.00 a pound, repeated 100 times a day for 300 working days in a year, totals up a money error of $1875.00, and it could be your dollars multiplied in such fashion were it not for local weights and measures administration."

"The millions of commercial transactions by weight and measures in our city," continued Mr. Bowen, "must be supervised for accuracy. The financial stakes are enormous."

Last year Newton's Weights and Measures Department inspected and tested scales of numerous varieties from prescription balances to market scales and vehicle scales, adjusting 198, sealing 907 and condemning 46; 1785 weights were sealed and 29 condemned. Gasoline pump meters included 70 adjusted, 343 sealed and 20 condemned.

Oil meters for household fuel totaled 17 adjusted, 61 sealed and 3 condemned; 4511 items of commodities prepackaged in anticipation of sale were inspected, 3265 were correct, 620 were overweight or measure, 626 were underweight or measure.

Such inspections included over 6 tons of food alone, 5615 other miscellaneous inspections were conducted including food package labeling and such other items as cordwood, coal, gravel, loam, pipe, clinical thermometers, etc.

Officials aren't suggesting that housewives should bake cakes and have all the neighbors in for Weights and Measures Week parties, but they do stress that there is one way every shopper should observe this and every other week for his own protection: "Watch the scales, read the labels, and be sure you're getting 16 ounces of food every time you pay for a pound."

Church, Housing Discrimination Linked

Newton Church Meeting Hears Of Northern Racial Problems

"In the north, discrimination in housing is the key form of discrimination. Until this is overcome, good human relations, involving peoples of all colors is an impossibility," Dr. Culbert G. Rutenber told his fellow members last night at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

The professor of the Philosophy of Religion and Social Ethics at Andover Newton Theological School spoke on "A Christian View of Race." He pointed out that a kind of automatic segregation in churches arises as a result of discrimination in housing.

When no colored people are permitted to own or rent houses in a community, automatic white-only churches inevitably result. In such situations churches can easily evade their responsibility to non-Caucasians. "Only an integrated church can be a Christian church," the speaker insisted.

Dr. Rutenber suggested that the problem of intermarriage remained the biggest emotional block to integration in the north as well as the south. He asserted that no serious discussion of the race issue will be able to avoid the intermarriage issue.

At this point the church must be firm in proclaiming its distinctive nature as a fellowship of all believers. "The church is not a marriage bureau where only people whom I would be willing to have marry my children are permitted to join; the problem of marriage must be left to the home."

The speaker noted that in two basic respects the church has a special stake in the abolition of racial prejudice, which he described as the number one social problem in America today. First, in its belief in God as Creator, the church asserts "that what men have in common is more important than what differentiates them. Segregation is a sin because it makes impossible the association one with another without which human understanding is an impossibility." Second, in its view of the Christian brotherhood it is clear "that the only standard for church membership is belief in Christ as Lord and Savior. Denial of church membership on the basis of race is blasphemy."

He compared refusal of church membership on racial grounds to a situation in which guests who had been invited to a home refused admittance to other invited guests simply because they did not like the host's choice of company.

Dr. Rutenber is chairman of the Andover Newton committee which gives supervisory oversight to the inter-racial inner-city Roxbury Project founded three years ago by the seminary. He has served as chairman of the Council on Christian Social Progress of the American Baptist Convention, and has given significant leadership to inter-racial lay and ministerial groups in Philadelphia and Camden, New Jersey.

CHAIRMAN—Mrs. Henry Weiss, of 16 Laudholm road Newton, newly elected chairman of the Greater Boston B'nai B'rith Donor Dinner committee, for annual dinners to be held March 8 and 9 at Hotel Bradford, Boston. She is a past president of Mayflower Chapter, B'nai B'rith and has served on the council. Mrs. Weiss is active in many other community affairs.

car which sped toward Watertown. He said the driver of the getaway car also was masked. He ran to the construction office nearby and telephoned police.

Police found the getaway car 15 minutes later, its motor still warm, on Waltham st. in Watertown, at the entrance to the Gore Estate. The car had been reported stolen earlier that same morning by an Arlington woman.

The stolen car was towed to the garage and it was checked for fingerprints. The man with the rifle was described as 25 to 30 years, 5 feet 6 inches, 150 pounds and wearing a blue jacket. There was no description of the second man. Both wore flesh-colored masks.

A duplicate payroll was made up after the holdup. The investigation was in charge of Capt. William J. Burke and nearby police departments were alerted by Lt. A. Charles Mascia, who was in charge at headquarters. Assisting were Sgts. James E. Halloran and John W. Foley, Inspector Charles W. Lynch and Patrolman Edward Meredith.

Safe Area-

This hobby has kept these boys off the streets at night and all the parents knew just where their boys were—in the garage fixing up their Go-Karts. They have learned more by doing these things than if they had had a course in mechanics.

Now it seems, that these boys are ready to use their Go-Karts and there doesn't seem to be a playground or big enough area for them to use these safe Karts.

It has come to my attention, as I am also a mother of a boy who has a Go-Kart, that these boys would like very much to see if they can get permission from someone to use someone's or the City's (Newton) or any other playground for that purpose.

It is a very safe sport. The boys are out of mischief. They are being creative in their ideas and it is a good healthy sport.

Can anyone in your newspaper, through an editorial, come up with any ideas on this matter, or are there any suggestions you may care to offer. Can you print an editorial in the paper suggesting all parents of Go-Kart owners write in or sign a petition to the effect that they wish a place for the boys to ride.

As it stands now, many boys are prone to ride it on streets where they are not allowed to go. They've paid out a great deal of money for these Karts and now are stuck.

Kindly advise.

Melvin didn't want to get married...

Melvin was in love, all right. He just loved all people. His one goal in life was to make as many people as possible happy.

Finally, he found a way to make lots and lots of people happy by—of all things—getting married! His bride was a very popular girl who had thousands of friends and relatives—(well, not quite a thousand, approximately 150).

The wedding reception held at the Charterhouse to accommodate "thousands" of relatives and friends was quite a winding. Not only did this merry group have a wonderful time—but they soon discovered that the Charterhouse was a quiet "get-away-from-it-all" weekend.

So, with just one simple "I do", Melvin brought joy to many, many people. That's the way to spread happiness at your own wedding reception at:

"Y" Education Program Will Enroll More Than 1000 Here

A review of the Adult Program activities of the Newton YMCA was a special feature of the regular February meeting of the Board of Directors held recently at the Y.

Maynard L. Moody, chairman of the Adult Program Committee, and Leonard D. Garfield, adult work secretary, reported a striking increase in the number of informal education classes during the past 10 years. During the current program year 17 different courses will be given at three separate intervals. Over 1000 students will normally be enrolled during this period.

Courses available include auto driving, ballroom dancing, bridge, creative dancing, golf, investments, and Slyn Jane charm course.

Mr. Moody reported that in addition to the education classes many other services were coordinated by the Adult Work department — 198 men were housed in the 35-room YMCA dormitory in 1959, with an additional 168 people placed in community housing. There is no charge for this latter service.

Also present at the meeting was Sumner Hammond, president of the Charles River Industrial Management Club, which meets eight months during the year and is affiliated with the YMCA. The purpose of the club is to aid supervisors and managers in the discharge of their responsibilities by planned programs of activities conducted on a regular basis.

Other business at the meeting included the election of five delegates to the New England Area Council of the YMCA. Representatives are: Eldred M. Peterson, Charles E. Smith, George R. Strandberg, Frederick S. Bacon, and Wilbur W. Bullen.

Worthington road, Brookline. Dr. Mildred Buchanan Flagg, author and world traveler, will discuss her personal interviews with world figures.

Aid to Speech Therapy of Emerson College supports the Robbins Speech and Hearing Clinic at 145 Beacon st., Boston. About 10% of all children and adults in our country have problems in speech or hearing or both. The resourceful combination of a clinic, a college and a community group working together has resulted in rehabilitation for many.

In order to continue its support of the clinic, the committee is again planning a spring luncheon which will be held on April 30 at the Hotel Statler Hilton.

HEART DISEASE Your #1 ENEMY

Give to Guard the Hearts you Love on Heart Sunday, February 28

Remember these two facts: Heart disease is your #1 health enemy; the Heart Fund is your #1 defense.

Remember, also, that the Heart Fund volunteer who rings your doorbell is giving her time to safeguard your heart ... and every heart in your family. Put out the welcome mat for her.

Just enclose your contribution in the envelope she hands you, seal it, and return it to your Heart Fund volunteer. Give generously. Give to fight heart disease!

If you can't be home next Sunday afternoon, February 28

1. Look for the envelope left by your Heart Fund volunteer.
2. Enclose your contribution.
3. Seal and place in mail.

NEW SCENERY FOR PLAY—Workmen take down famed Pilate's Daughter cross for the first time in 60 years to make room for the brand new professionally staged production which opens March 4 at St. Alphonsus Theatre, Roxbury.

Actors of both sexes and of all denominations will take part in the brand new production of the modernized old play. With the proceeds earmarked for local non-denominational charities, the play will be presented on stage each Friday and Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon from March 4 through April 13.

Three million theatregoers saw the annual Passion Play, "Pilate's Daughter," during the past 59 Lenten seasons. During that time neither the script nor the scenery was changed in any way whatever. Written for the single women's sodality of the Mission Church in Roxbury the play called only for female roles.

Many loved the old play. Drama critics did not. In an effort to make this Lenten tradition worthy of critical acclaim, a professionally staged brand new play, sets and costumes have been prepared in a production which now for the first time employs actors

Rare Exhibits Feature Open House at Jackson Homestead

A "French Decorative Arts" exhibit featured the successful February Open House observance of the Jackson Homestead membership at 527 Washington street last Sunday, February 21.

The exhibit was built around a collection of beautiful Sevres plates recently given to the Homestead by the estate of Miss Mabel T. Eager of Auburndale.

A collection of early French wallpaper was shown by Mrs. Clifford A. Waterhouse, of Boston. The papers, softly colored and delicately designed, were brought to this country by sea captains in the late 18th century.

Most of the papers came to the New England ports and many New England homes have preserved them.

Miss Lillian A. Smith displayed an interesting collection of fans, 28 in all.

One of the features of the open house observance was the exhibit of a famous oil painting, "Madam Pompadour" by Jean Netter, first exhibited in Paris in 1849. Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon, of Newton, is the owner. French china was exhibited by Mrs. Frank A. Dillaby, of Waban. She was assisted by Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham, Miss Jean Howard and Mrs. Kenneth C. Collinson.

Miss Loraine Cotting was in charge of costuming the delightful, old fashioned mannikins for which the Homestead is noted.

Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes and Mrs. E. Graham Bates were in charge of the flowers. Hostesses for the day were the following members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Mrs. Harry W. Abells, president; Mrs. John R. Clark, Mrs. William C. Custer, Miss Helen Cotton, Mrs. George Kent, Mrs. Harry L. Kinsel, Mrs. P. T. Livingston, Mrs. Edmund Miller and Mrs. Charles W. Tenney.

Club Women See Spring Hat Showing

The Community Service Club of West Newton, with Mrs. John B. Naylor presiding at the business session, held its regular meeting for members and guests last Wednesday at the Second Church Parish House.

Regular reports were made by Mrs. George C. Thompson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Edmund Anthony, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Raymond J. Grenier, club federation secretary, gave a fine report of the mid-winter meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Theresa Cram, legislative chairman, gave a report of her tour of the State House with club women. Mrs. Sydney P. French spoke on international relations.

Mrs. Raymond J. Grenier, program chairman, introduced "Dorothea" from Shoppers World who entertained with a showing of new hats for Spring. The following members modeled the Spring hats: Mrs. Daniel Ricker, Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, Mrs. George O. Thompson, Mrs. Fletcher P. Osgood, Mrs. Theresa L. Cram, Mrs. Nelse Hervey.

The dessert coffee hour was planned by Mrs. John G. Learmonth and Mrs. O. Sidney Parker. Mrs. Edmund Anthony and Mrs. Elliot D. Hansen served as pourers.

Mrs. Russell McIntosh, art chairman, arranged the art corner with paintings done by Mrs. Holgate of Newton.

Weeks Junior High PTA To Meet March 8

The Weeks Junior High School P. T. A. will present a stimulating and timely program, under the title of "The Impact of Today's World on Teen-Age Values", on Tuesday, March 8 at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Max Goodson, dean of the Boston University School of Education and nationally known as an authority on human development will speak on the effects of changing adult values on youth. He will be joined by Dr. Robert Chin, Director of Research at the Human Relations Center of Boston University. Dr. Chin has been working with parent groups on a "Values Study" and will present a report on the preliminary results of the assessment of students at Weeks.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Polack and her Program Committee.

Little League Time Coming

Spring is here when the baseball call goes out. The Newton South Little League announces that application for tryouts soon will be going out to the schools. These will be held April 16, 23 and 24 at Cold Spring Playground.

President for 1960 is Mitchell Simon. Other officers are vice president, Percy Nelson; secretary, Elliott Abbott; and treasurer, Milton Heath.

Newton Hi 5 Ends Season With Split

Newton High's courtmen started the last week of the hoop season with a sparkling 76 to 60 win over Arlington on Monday afternoon at the Newton High gym, but ran out of steam against Brookline and were defeated by a score of 85 to 41, on Wednesday at Brookline.

Alan York was the standout in the win over Arlington as he tallied 25 points, including seven fouls. Arlington's leading scorer, Leo Scully, fouled out of the game just after the start of the final period.

In the game against Brookline, Newton never seemed to get going. Brookline center Fred Newman counted 23 points and set a new seasonal record for the Suburban League with a total of 330.

Capt. York could do no better than 12 points in this game.

Political Highlights

Democrats Plan New Senate Gerrymander

Democratic leaders in the State Senate are planning a new move to strengthen their party's grip on the upper legislative chamber.

A plan now is being worked out for revising some of the senatorial districts. It would be less drastic and more equitable than the one proposed last December.

It probably will not be revealed until late in the legislative session, but an effort will be made to put it into effect for next November's election.

No attempt will be made this year to revamp the State's congressional districts. That undertaking, fraught with political peril, will be postponed until 1961.

Democratic chieftains in the Senate at the start of the year decided they would not seek

Roaming Rovers

Editor, Newton Graphic:

It was interesting to read Mrs. J. Vincent Gray's letter on the subject of Roaming Dogs and her experiences. I have at divers times expressed my views. I recall the action taken by the Board of Aldermen which was negative by a large majority. The only Alderman voting for a leash law was Alderman Theodore W. Mann. After inaction by the Board, it was announced that no further action could be taken until after a year had passed. In the meantime the present city Ordinance would have to apply to cover roaming rovers in the garden city.

At this time I will quote a news item. Probably many of your readers remember it. It did not happen in Newton, but it could happen anywhere. "A dog darted onto a crowded freeway — with these results: Forty vehicles smashed together in a chain reaction accident which stretched three miles. Eleven persons were treated for minor injuries. Damage to automobiles mostly from front-to-rear smashups caused sudden stops — totaled more than $10,000. Fifteen cars had to be towed away. The dog was killed. It took an hour to get the freeway cleared."

A few weeks ago while I waited for a bus, I observed the following at Newton Corner. Several dogs were roaming at will. One was chasing an automobile, one a bus, one got into a store, another one followed — result a real dog fight until referees stopped the fight. No decision. Another one was barking and jumping at pedestrians. Another one chasing a bicycle and trying to bite the rider.

Last week, I noticed a neighbor had put out his rubbish cans after dark. The next morning before 6 a.m. the 3 cans were upset and contents everywhere over lawn and neighbors' lawns. Unquestionably, the roaming rover (s) was on the loose after dark came and before 6 a.m. the next morning. It is a typical situation in many sections in our city.

I also recall reading an item about a pack of dogs or roaming hounds — attacked a little girl. They chewed off half of her face. Surgeons reported she would be disfigured during all her life and such a condition would be a barrier in many ways — too numerous to mention. This did not happen in Newton, but it can happen here.

When a year has expired since the last action taken by the Board of Aldermen, a dog leash law should be given priority and passed without one dissent.

ton, Belmont, Salem and Marblehead. This is the order in which they will sing in the contest.

The afternoon preceding the contest will feature two clinics; one on Quartet promotion and coaching and one on Chapter Officer leadership training. These will be followed by the prospective Sweet Adeline chapter of Marblehead. These pre-contest activities will all take place at the Methodist Church on Lafayette street.

the passage of any redistricting bill during the present legislative session but would leave well enough alone. They were fearful that a Gerrymander might jeopardize their party's prospects for next November's election.

Since then they have changed their minds and have agreed that they will back a watered-down proposal.

Senate President John E. Powers has told fellow Democratic Solons that any redistricting plan must be much more fair and reasonable than the one recommended in December.

Powers declared that back through the years he protested loudly against Republican Gerrymanders and that he would not place himself in the position of doing the same thing he had criticized the GOP for doing.

He warned his colleagues that he would vote against any redistricting plan he considered unfair.

It is very probable, of course, that a plan regarded as fair by Powers would draw roars of pained anguish from Republican Senators, but it seems certain that it will not be as bold or bare-faced a Gerrymander as the one advanced late last year.

That proposal, if put to a test in the Senate, would have been defeated. Several Democrats had declared their intention of voting against it. One even served notice that he would go into court to fight it.

The main purpose of the new redistricting plan will be to solidify more firmly those Democratic Senators now representing marginal districts who might be swept out of office if a strong Republican trend developed.

The Democrats will not be as much concerned about picking up any new Senate seats as in holding those they now have.

In the words of Senate President Powers and Democratic Senate Leader Maurice A. Donahue, any new plan will merely eliminate existing inequities. It is highly unlikely, however, that the Republicans will see it that way.

GOP leaders in the Senate realize they don't have the votes to block any redistricting bill which has solid Democratic support. They intend to make their big fight in the courts.

Political Hypocrisy In Sales Tax Defeat

Governor Furcolo suffered a resounding defeat when his sales tax bill was killed by a one-sided vote of 185-47 in the House of Representatives.

From a political standpoint, however, the death of the sales tax measure may have caused more lasting harm to the Republicans than it did to Furcolo.

The Governor can stand before the people and tell them he had the courage to put his political future on the barrel head and to advocate in an
